MEDIA INFORMATION

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS: News media representatives who have not been issued season press credentials should request single game credentials in advance by writing or calling the Eagles' public relations department, Veterans Stadium, Philadelphia, PA 19148 (phone: 215-463-2500). Credentials reserved in advance can be picked up at the Press Gate/Security Entrance below Gate B (not the Will Call Window) two hours before the scheduled kickoff. Members of the media who regularly cover a visiting team should arrange to acquire their credentials through that team's PR department.

PRESS BOXES: The Eagles maintain three press boxes, designated A, B, and C, on the fourth level of Veterans Stadium. Admission to the press area is strictly limited to those individuals holding credentials issued by the Eagles' public relations department. No other media identification cards will be honored. With the exception of field photographers (see below), all news media should enter the press gate (Spectrum side of stadium) and take the elevator to the fourth level.

TELEPHONES: Game day telephones at an assigned seat can be ordered by calling the Bell of Pennsylvania representative Al Farrell at 215-578-5000 and AT&T representative Barbara McAtee at 215-581-2573.

TELEVISION AND RADIO: Network television and visiting radio facilities are located on the fourth level between press boxes A and B. Network TV credentials must be obtained through the network game producer. Visiting radio credentials will be issued through the visiting team's PR representative unless other arrangements have been made in advance.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Sideline credentials for field photographers are issued by the Eagles' public relations department only. Space limitations make it impossible to accredit free lance photographers who are not on specific assignment by a recognized sports or news publication. Photographers should take the press elevator to the first (field) level. Space on the fourth level photo deck is extremely limited and available only on a reserved basis. All field photographers are reminded that they must remain outside the bench areas and behind the broken yellow lines that surround the entire perimeter of the playing field.

LOCKER ROOMS: Admission to the home and visiting locker rooms after a game is controlled by each team. There is absolutely no admission to the locker room before or during a game.

PRESS CLUB: Admittance to the Press Club before a game and at halftime is limited to working media holding appropriate credentials.

NORMAN BRAMAN, Owner

When Norman Braman closed the deal with Leonard Tose on April 29 to officially become the new owner of the Philadelphia Eagles, it was a dream come true for the 52-year-old Miami businessman who, as a lanky kid, used to haul water buckets to Steve Van Buren, Tommy Thompson, and the rest of the Eagles' players at their training camp in West Chester and then sneak into Shibe Park during the regular season to watch them play.

"I didn't have the money to buy a ticket then," recalled Braman, who today heads an automobile sales and leasing organization that is among the largest in the world.

Braman has called his purchase of the Eagles "a solid business deal that's deeply immersed in sentimentality." Indeed, Braman has maintained his love affair with the Birds since his water boy days.

Before moving to Florida in 1968 when he sold his highly successful businesses in Pennsylvania, Braman religiously bought Eagles' season tickets.

The new Eagles' owner has come a long way from humble beginnings. His successful future must have seemed like a million-to-one longshot when he was born in West Chester, PA (August 22, 1932), the second son of immigrant parents. His father, Harry, a barber who died several years ago, had come to America from Poland. His mother, Katie, now living in Miami, came from Romania. Braman's brother, Leonard, is a retired judge.

Braman has been a Philadelphian almost from birth. He was less than a year old when his family moved there from West Chester. Life was by no means easy for the family in South Philadelphia. Braman well remembers those early days in the Roseberry Street and Orkney Street neighborhoods.

He went to Taggart Elementary School in South Philadelphia and spent time hanging around his father's barber shop at Eighth and Arch Streets. Later, after the family moved to Larchwood Avenue in West Philadelphia, he attended Bryant Elementary, Shaw Junior High, and West Philadelphia High, where he played basketball and graduated in 1950.

Braman received a degree in marketing from Temple University in 1955. He first entered the business world as a salesman for a wholesale wine and liquor distributor.

He started on his road to success in Lebanon, PA, where he opened a small discount department store which did so well that he soon was able to open new stores in Philadelphia and nearby towns.

Later, he organized Philadelphia Pharmaceuticals and Cosmetics. Again, the Braman perspiration and inspiration worked its magic. In 1968, at only 36, he was made an offer he couldn't refuse and sold the business at a price that made him a millionaire.

Braman still is sometimes surprised at the business success he has achieved, realizing that there has to be a lot of luck as well as ability in financial accomplishments. He still finds himself somewhat astounded that he now can afford to give away as much in a single philanthropy as his father probably earned in a lifetime.

When Braman sold his Philadelphia business late in 1968, he bought a home in Florida to spend more time enjoying life with his wife and children. In 1972, however, he was presented with an opportunity to take an interest in a Cadillac agency in Tampa, Florida. In 1975, he acquired a Miami Cadillac agency. Braman has been going again at full speed ever since.

In the past 10 years he has become one of South Florida's most visible and successful businessmen and community leaders. His automotive organization includes a string of dealerships across the state of Florida and in Denver, Colorado. They represent Cadillac, Rolls Royce, BMW, Audi, Porsche, Toyota, Nissan, Chrysler-Plymouth, Maserati, and Honda.

The Braman organization sells more than 25,000 cars a year currently, and its gross volume for 1985 will be in excess of $500,000,000.

In May, 1985, Braman became chairman of Austin Rover Cars of North America, through which he imports and distributes a new luxury automobile engineered jointly by Austin Rover of England and the Honda Motor Company of Japan. It is the first production car in the world to have been developed on an equally shared basis from concept to production by two major manufacturers.

Braman taps a seemingly inexhaustible supply of energy. While directing his sophisticated and extensive business empire, he manages to devote considerable time to community activities as an activist and philanthropist.

He is a leader and contributor to such diverse causes as the United Way, The Greater Miami Jewish Federation, Miami Heart Institute, Mount Sinai Medical Center, United Israel Appeal, Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce, Tel Aviv University, and numerous other efforts.

Braman also has an active interest in politics, dating back to the days of his support of Republican Senator Hugh Scott in his native Pennsylvania. Several years ago he was considered by many to be a leading potential candidate for the U.S. Senate from Florida. Eventually, however, he took himself out of consideration for that office to concentrate on business. In 1981, President Ronald Reagan nominated him for Commissioner of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, but Braman decided he needed to devote full time to his dealerships.

Braman and his wife Irma have been married for 29 years. They have two daughters, Suzi, 18, who will be a freshman at Drexel University this fall, and Debra, 25, a jewelry designer in New York and a graduate of Boston University and the Fashion Institute of New York.

EDWARD LEIBOWITZ

Co-Owner

Edward Leibowitz, 41, has been associated with Norman Braman for the past 19 years and will further that relationship as the Eagles' new minority owner (35 percent).

Leibowitz, who was born and raised in Lebanon, PA (October 9, 1943), attended the University of Pennsylvania and transferred to Franklin and Marshall, where he earned a B.A. in biology in 1965. From 1965-67, he was a business associate of Braman's in a chain of 46 Keystone Discount Stores. In 1967, Leibowitz became the general manager of Beth Products, a family-owned clothing manufacturing company. Five years later, he joined Braman in the automobile industry and has served as president of Bay Cadillac of Tampa, FL, since 1972.

A former director of Pan American Bank in Tampa, Leibowitz is very involved with various charitable organizations, including the United Way of Tampa and the Tampa Jewish Federation.

Leibowitz and his wife Blossom, a sister of Braman's wife Irma, have a daughter Susan 15, and a son David 13.

HARRY GAMBLE

Vice President-General Manager

Harry Gamble, who became general manager on February 4, 1985, was named vice president-general manager by Norman Braman the same day (April 29) Braman officially became the new Eagles' owner.

"I've been very impressed with Harry," said Braman. "I expanded his title to vice president-general manager to show clearly that he will be in charge of all operations of the Eagles on a day-to-day basis and will report directly to me and my partner, Ed Leibowitz."

The former head football coach at Lafayette (1967-1970) and Pennsylvania (1971-1980) joined the Eagles as a volunteer assistant coach in 1981 before becoming a full-time aide in charge of special teams and tight ends in 1982, when he also served as administrative assistant to Dick Vermeil. In 1983, he concentrated his efforts in administration as an assistant for both the coaching and personnel staffs before being named director of football administration in 1984.

Born and raised in Pitman, NJ, Gamble, 54 (December 26, 1930) has master's and doctorate degrees in business administration and education from Temple University. He received his undergraduate degree in 1952 from Rider College, where he was an offensive lineman, and then became a player-coach with an Army team at Fort Meade (MD) in 1953. After coaching and teaching in the New Jersey prep ranks from 1954-1961 (at Clayton and Audubon high schools), Gamble became an assistant coach at Penn from 1962-66 before taking the head job at Lafayette.

For a decade, he served as head coach of the Penn Quakers. In 1972, he was chosen by his peers as the NCAA District One coach of the year and by the NY Sportswriters Association as the University Division Eastern coach of the year when Penn went 6-3. During several months in 1979, he served as the university's acting director of recreation and intercollegiate athletes.

Throughout his career in football, the likeable Gamble has made a lot of friends and earned the respect of his colleagues. In 1985, he was inducted into the Gloucester County (NJ) Sports Hall of Fame. Harry and his wife Joan reside in Haddonfield, NJ. They have two sons, Harry 26 and Tom 22.

MARION CAMPBELL

Head Coach and Defensive Coordinator

Marion Campbell is beginning his third year as head coach of the Eagles after six seasons as the Birds' highly successful defensive coordinator. In his six years as an assistant coach, Campbell's units allowed the fewest points in the NFL, an average of 15.8 points per game. As head coach, he continues to oversee the defense and works with offensive coordinator Ted Marchibroda in putting together the Eagles' attack.

Since the 12th game of 1983, when he first inserted four young players into the starting lineup, Campbell has made it clear that he will take whatever steps are necessary to make the Eagles a winning club. Following the Birds' 5-11 campaign in 1983, Campbell restructured the team's roster by waiving veteran players or trading them for draft choices. He also hired new offensive coaches to revamp the Eagles' attack. Positive results came slowly as Philadelphia got off to a 1-4 start in 1984. After the slow start, Campbell stressed the importance of retaining a confident, workmanlike attitude. The Birds responded with a 5-5-1 record over the final 11 games, including a three-game win streak, a victory over the defending NFC champion Washington Redskins, and hard-fought one-point losses to the eventual AFC champion Miami Dolphins and the tough St. Louis Cardinals. Campbell's Eagles had restored a sense of excitement to Veterans Stadium where they rewarded the Philadelphia faithful with five victories in eight games.

One key to the Eagles' turnaround was the vastly improved defensive unit, which mirrored the season as a whole. After five weeks, the defense ranked 27th and had caused just three turnovers. But in the weeks to come, Philadelphia's defense showed signs of returning to the swarming, intense style of play that characterized the Birds' performance in the playoff years of 1978-1981. Under Campbell's direction, the unit finished seventh in the NFC in total defense and set a team record with 60 quarterback sacks.

Campbell's first association with the Eagles came in 1956 when, as a defensive lineman, he was traded to Philadelphia by the San Francisco 49ers. He was the 49ers' fourth-round draft choice in 1951 and spent the 1954-55 seasons with the 49ers after completing two years of military duty as a first lieutenant in the Army.

He enjoyed his finest seasons as a player with the Eagles. Campbell was a starter at defensive end on the Birds' 1960 NFL championship team. During his tenure with the Eagles, Campbell won all-pro honors from The Sporting News in 1959 and was selected to the Pro Bowl in 1960 and 1961.

Campbell finished his playing career with the Eagles in 1961 and immediately began coaching as an assistant with the Boston Patriots, then a member of the American Football League. He was Boston's defensive line coach from 1962-63 before returning to the National Football League in 1964 with Minnesota where he continued to build a solid reputation as one of the top defensive coaches in the game.

While a member of the Vikings' staff, Campbell helped develop outstanding defensive lines led by Carl Eller, Jim Marshall, and Gary Larsen. At Campbell's urging, the Vikings drafted Alan Page in 1967, and the foundation was set for the famed front four known as the Purple People Eaters. Campbell then moved on to the Los Angeles Rams as defensive line coach from 1967-68 where he tutored the Fearsome Foursome, including such greats as Roger Brown, Rosie Grier, David "Deacon" Jones, Lamar Lundy, and Merlin Olsen.

Campbell joined the Atlanta Falcons in 1969 as defensive line coach. In November, 1974, he was promoted to head coach and served in that capacity until October, 1976. His head coaching record there was 6-19, including a 4-10 mark in 1975, his only full season at the helm. Campbell sat out the final nine games of 1976 after leaving Atlanta, and then joined Dick Vermeil's Eagles staff in 1977. The Eagles' defense showed immediate improvement under Campbell, allowing only 207 points in 1977 after surrendering 286 the previous season.

Campbell was named head coach of the Eagles on January 10, 1983. He is the 16th head coach in the 53-year history of the Eagles' franchise.

Campbell was born in Chester, SC, on May 25, 1929. He attended Chester High School before enrolling at the University of Georgia, where he became an outstanding tackle. At Georgia, Campbell was an All-Southeastern Conference selection three times and the team's MVP as a senior in 1951. He received his nickname, "Swamp Fox," at Georgia. His full name, Francis Marion, is the same as that of the legendary Revolutionary War hero who was called Swamp Fox because of his fighting exploits in the swamps of South Carolina. Campbell has been inducted into the state hall of fames in both South Carolina and Georgia.

Campbell is an avid golfer and fisherman. He and his wife June live in Medford, NJ. They have two children, Scott 23, a recent graduate of Georgia, and Alicia, 20.

TOM BRASHER, Defensive Line

Tom Brasher, who served as the New England Patriots' defensive line coach for the past three seasons, joined the Eagles' staff in that same capacity in February, 1985. At New England, Brasher was instrumental in formulating a pass rush that sacked opposing quarterbacks 55 times in 1984, third-best (tie) in the AFC. Brasher is entering his 22nd year of coaching. As a line-backer at the University of Arkansas from 1960-63, Brasher earned All-Southwest Conference honors and played in the 1962 and 1963 Sugar Bowls before his career was slowed as a senior due to a knee injury. Upon graduating from Arkansas with a degree in education, Brasher began his coaching career by serving one year as offensive and defensive line coach at his high school alma mater, El Dorado High in his hometown and birthplace of El Dorado, AK. From 1965-66, he was an assistant at Galveston Ball (AK) High before obtaining his first head coaching job at Hot Springs (AK) High for the 1967-69 seasons. In 1968, Brasher was named the Arkansas coach of the year. Brasher jumped to the collegiate ranks as an assistant defensive line coach at Arkansas in 1970 before moving to Virginia Tech from 1971-73, where he spent two seasons as defensive line coach and one with the linebackers. He then spent the 1974 and 1976 seasons as defensive coordinator and line coach at Northeast Louisiana. In 1975, he was defensive coordinator of the Shreveport Steamer in the World Football League. Brasher next joined Ron Meyer's staff at Southern Methodist in 1977 and spent five years as the Mustangs' defensive line coach. One of his players at SMU was current Eagles' nose tackle Harvey Armstrong. In 1982, Brasher followed Meyer to the NFL when Meyer became head coach of the Patriots. Brasher and his wife LaNelle reside in Moorestown, NJ. They are the parents of two daughters, Melodie 19 and Christie 9. Pronounced: BRAY-zure.

FRED BRUNEY, Assistant Head Coach and Defensive Secondary

Fred Bruney, who oversees the defensive backfield, is beginning his ninth consecutive season with the Eagles. Bruney coached the Eagles' secondary from 1964-68 under Joe Kuharich and spent the next eight years (1969-1976) with the Atlanta Falcons. The 53-year-old Bruney (December 30, 1931) has spent a total of 33 years in professional football as a player and coach. A native of Martin's Ferry, OH, he starred as a defensive back at Ohio State before graduating in 1953. He was a third round draft choice of Cleveland that year but was traded to San Francisco and played the 1953 season with the 49ers before beginning two years of military duty. He returned to San Francisco in 1956 and later saw action with Pittsburgh (1957), Los Angeles (1958), and the Boston Patriots (1960-62). He was selected All-AFL in 1960. Bruney was freshman coach at Ohio State in 1959. He directed the Patriots defensive backs in 1962 when he was a player-coach and also in 1963 (coach only) before coming to the Eagles. He developed Atlanta's defensive secondaries into some of the best in the NFL during his eight years there and has been equally successful in Philadelphia during the past eight years. In 1981, the Eagles allowed the fewest passing yards in the NFL. For the past two seasons, Bruney has been instrumental in the development of young players such as Wes Hopkins and Ray Ellis, two of the hardest hitting safeties in the NFL. Under Bruney's tutelage in 1984, the Eagles registered 20 interceptions, including at least one in each of the last 12 games. When Marion Campbell was named the Eagles' head coach in January, 1983, his first official move was to name Bruney the assistant head coach. The two men have coached together for a total of 19 seasons, including the past eight in Philadelphia. Fred and his wife Louise reside in Medford, NJ. They have five children: Chuck 29, Susan 21, Lori 18, Rebecca 15, and Richard 13.

CHUCK CLAUSEN, Linebackers

Chuck Clausen, who joined the Eagles' staff as defensive line coach in 1976 and has served in that capacity for the last nine seasons, will begin his 10th season with the Birds in a new role, linebackers coach. Clausen is Philadelphia's fourth linebackers coach since current head coach Marion Campbell joined the Eagles' staff as defensive coordinator in 1977. Two of Clausen's predecessors, Rod Rust (1976-77) and George Hill (1979-1984), went on to assume the role of defensive coordinator with the Patriots and Colts, respectively. Campbell chose to move Clausen to the linebackers because of his familiarity with the Eagles' system of pass coverages. With Clausen guiding the defensive linemen in 1984, the Eagles set team records for quarterback sacks in a season (60—48 of which were by linemen), and sacks in a single game (9 at Atlanta on Dec. 16). Five of Clausen's six linemen established career highs for sacks in 1984, including right end Greg Brown (16), who ranked second among the NFC's individual sack leaders, and left end Dennis Harrison (12), who ranked sixth. Ken Clarke (10½) led the NFC and ranked second in the NFL among nose tackles. In 1982, Harrison was selected to the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl. Since coming to the Eagles, Clausen has become one of the most knowledgeable coaches in the NFL on the use of computers in coaching. He also writes and edits the Eagles' offseason weight training brochure. In May, he taught a class on understanding pro football at Burlington County (NJ) College. Clausen, 45 (June 23, 1940), is a native of Anamosa, IA. He was a letterman in football and wrestling at the University of New Mexico before graduating in 1963. From 1963-67 he coached on the high school level while earning a master's degree in physical education at San Jose State. He coached at New Mexico Military Institute in 1968, then moved up to the college ranks in 1969 at William and Mary. He remained there until 1971 when he left to join the Ohio State staff under Woody Hayes. The Buckeyes won Big 10 titles in four of Clausen's five seasons there, and he coached three All-Americans: George Hasenohrl, Pete Cusick, and Nick Buonamici. During the summers of 1981-83, Clausen operated a successful youth football camp in Albuquerque, NM. Chuck and his wife Betsy reside in Mt. Laurel, NJ, with their three children: Cari 17, Lisa 15, and Chad 14.

TOM COUGHLIN, Wide Receivers

Tom Coughlin, who is entering his second year with the Eagles, joined the Birds' staff in 1984 after serving as quarterback coach at Boston College from 1981-83. Under Coughlin's tutelage last season, Mike Quick caught 61 passes and earned his second consecutive selection to the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl while becoming the first Eagles' receiver to record back-to-back 1,000-yard receiving seasons since Tommy McDonald in 1961 and 1962.

Coughlin also aided in the development of Tony Woodruff, who set personal career-highs with 30 receptions for 484 yards, and Kenny Jackson, the Eagles' number-one draft pick in 1984, who was making excellent progress before being slowed by a separated shoulder at mid-season. A native of Waterloo, NY (August 31, 1946), he played a key role in the development of quarterback Doug Flutie at Boston College. Flutie went on to win the Heisman Trophy as a senior in 1984 and finished his career with more passing yards than any quarterback in collegiate history (10,579). While Coughlin was at BC, the team compiled a 22-10-1 record and went on to win their first Lambert Trophy since 1942 as the top team in the East. The Eagles also played in the Tangerine and Liberty bowls following the 1982 and 1983 seasons after not having appeared in a bowl game since 1943. Coughlin, a 1968 graduate of Syracuse, was an assistant coach at his alma mater from 1974-1980, serving as offensive coordinator in his last four years and coaching such players as quarterback Bill Hurley and running back Joe Morris. In 1970, Coughlin was named head coach at Rochester Institute of Technology and became the only winning coach in the history of the school. During his collegiate career, Coughlin lettered for three years as a wingback under legendary coach Ben Schwartzwalder while playing in the same backfield as Floyd Little and Larry Csonka. He set a Syracuse season record for receptions as a senior and won the Joseph Alexander Award for excellence in football, scholarship, and citizenship. He also earned a master's degree in social science education while serving as a graduate assistant coach for the Orangemen's freshman team in 1968. Tom and his wife Judith reside in Medford, NJ. They have four children: Keli Ann 15, Timothy 12, Brian 7, and Kathleen 3. Pronounced: COFF-lin.

FRANK GANSZ, Tight Ends and Special Teams

Frank Gansz, who is beginning his third year as the Eagles' tight ends and special teams coach, has made a significant impact on the Birds' special teams units. In 1983, Philadelphia's special teams ranked 10th in the league (based on a point system evaluating all phases of special teams play), after finishing 27th in 1982. Last year the Eagles ranked first, with much of the credit to Gansz's hard-working coverage units and the performances of kicker Paul McFadden, who was voted NFC rookie of the year by United Press International, and free agent punter Mike Horan, whose 35.6-yard net average ranked second in the NFC. Gansz is renown for his energetic coaching style. He came to Philadelphia after a two-year stint with the Kansas City Chiefs, where his special teams ranked first in the NFL from 1981-82. He also coached the Chiefs' tight ends. Gansz, 46, was born in Altoona, PA (November 22, 1938), and grew up there and in Pittsburgh, PA. He graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1960 and was a member of the Middies' 1958 Cotton Bowl team before accepting his officer's commission in the U.S. Air Force. He was a military jet pilot from 1961-66 and a commercial jet pilot with Continental Airlines from 1967-68. Gansz began his coaching career at the Air Force Academy from 1964-66 and later served as a college assistant at Colgate (1968), Navy (1969-1972), Oklahoma State (1973, 1975), West Point (1974), and UCLA (1976-77). He entered the NFL as the San Francisco 49ers' kicking game coach in 1978 before moving to Cincinnati, where he coached the special teams from 1979-1980. Frank and his wife Barbara reside in Cherry Hill, NJ. They have two children, Frank, Jr., 22 and Jennifer 21.

KEN IMAN, Offensive Line

Ken Iman, along with Chuck Clausen, has the longest current tenure of any Eagles' assistant coach. Iman is now in his 10th year with the Birds after joining Dick Vermeil's staff in 1976. In January, 1984, head coach Marion Campbell announced that Iman would be the Eagles' sole offensive line coach. For the previous five years, Iman had shared that role with former coach Jerry Wampfler. During that time, Iman was instrumental in the development of tackles Jerry Sisemore and Stan Walters, both of whom were twice selected to play in the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl. Iman entered the pro coaching ranks with no prior coaching experience after a stellar 14-year playing career as a center with the Green Bay Packers and Los Angeles Rams. Iman, 46 (February 8, 1939), is a native of St. Louis, MO, and a 1960 graduate of Southeast Missouri State College. He joined the Packers as a free agent in 1960 and played in three consecutive NFL championship games (1960-62) with them before being traded to Los Angeles for quarterback Zeke Bratkowski in 1964. After missing the 1964 season with a broken ankle, Iman went on to start 140 consecutive regular season games from 1965-1974. Ken also started the 1974 NFC Championship Game. In 1972, his teammates voted him MVP. Iman is the father of four children: Susan 26, Karen 24, Betsy 21, and Robert 18. He resides in Springfield, PA, with his wife Joyce, the Eagles' director of ticket operations and the mother of a daughter, Joyce 14.

MILT JACKSON, Running Backs

Milt Jackson, who served as receivers coach for the Buffalo Bills for the past two seasons, was appointed the Eagles' running backs coach in February, 1985. A native of Groesbeck, TX, Jackson, 41 (October 16, 1943), was also an assistant with the 49ers' coaching staff when they defeated the Cincinnati Bengals in Super Bowl XVI. He coached San Francisco's receivers and special teams from 1980-82. Under Jackson's tutelage, the 49ers' Dwight Clark blossomed into one of the NFL's premier wide receivers and led the league with 60 receptions in 1982. From 1975-79, Jackson was an assistant at three Pac-10 universities. He coached the tackles and tight ends at UCLA in 1979 after spending the 1977-78 seasons as the defensive backfield coach at Oregon and the 1975-76 campaigns at California working with line-backers. Jackson began his college coaching career as a graduate assistant at Oregon State in 1973 and moved to Rice a year later as running backs coach. A three-sport star at Grant High School in Sacramento, CA, Jackson had a stellar career as a football cornerback and baseball pitcher at the University of Tulsa. He was drafted by the 49ers in the seventh round and by the Philadelphia Phillies in the first round. After spending the 1967 season on the 49ers' taxi squad he returned to Grant High for two years as a history teacher and football and basketball coach before going on to Oregon State where he earned his master's degree in education. Milt and his wife Brenda reside in Cherry Hill, NJ, with their three-year-old son Garrett.

TED MARCHIBRODA, Offensive Coordinator

Ted Marchibroda, the former head coach of the Baltimore Colts (1975-79), enters his second year at the helm of the Eagles' offense. One of the NFL's most highly regarded offensive coaches, he joined the Birds' staff in January, 1984, after serving as the Detroit Lions' offensive coordinator from 1982-83. A native of Franklin, PA (March 15, 1931), Marchibroda, 54, has an impressive background of NFL experience. In 1975, his first year as head coach of the Colts, he was named NFL coach of the year after his squad improved from 2-12 the previous year to 10-4 and won their first of three consecutive AFC East championships. In 1976, the Colts led the NFL in total offense, passing, and scoring. During his five years in Baltimore, the Colts compiled a record of 41-36. Marchibroda served 14 years as an NFL assistant coach before joining the Colts, beginning as a backfield coach for Bill McPeak and the Washington Redskins in 1961. In 1966, he joined the Rams' staff and spent the next nine seasons coaching under George Allen. He was named offensive coordinator of the Redskins in 1971 when Allen took over as head coach, and helped lead Washington to Super Bowl VII. In 1980, Marchibroda did some part-time work for Eagles coach Dick Vermeil. One of his main responsibilities was breaking down film of the Cowboys, which was instrumental in the Birds' two victories over Dallas that season. After serving as offensive coordinator for the Chicago Bears in 1981, Marchibroda took a similar position with the Lions in 1982. An outstanding quarterback at St. Bonaventure from 1950-51 and at the University of Detroit in 1952 when he was one of nation's leading passers, Marchibroda was a first round draft choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1953. He played for Pittsburgh in 1953 before serving in the Army in 1954. He returned to the Steelers for the 1955-56 seasons and finished his playing with the Chicago Cardinals in 1957. In 1956, his best season as a pro, Marchibroda was second in the NFL with 12 TD passes. Ironically, Eagles head coach Marion Campbell intercepted one of Marchibroda's passes in the Birds' victory at Connie Mack Stadium that year. Marchibroda has worked with such outstanding quarterbacks as Bert Jones, who was named NFL MVP in 1976 with the Colts; Roman Gabriel; Sonny Jurgensen; Billy Kilmer; and Ron Jaworski. Ted and his wife Henrietta have two daughters, Jodi 29 and Lonni 26; and two sons, Teddy 28 and Robert 24.

LYNN STILES, Executive Director of Player Personnel

Lynn Stiles was named the Eagles' director of player personnel in July, 1982, after serving three seasons as administrative assistant, tight ends and special teams coach under Dick Vermeil. Stiles, 44 (April 12, 1941), was born in Kermit, TX, attended Reno (NV) High, and was an All-Western Athletic Conference guard at Utah, where he played in the All-American Bowl. Stiles began coaching at his alma mater in 1963 and remained there through 1965. From 1966-1970 he was a defensive line coach under Ray Nagel at Iowa before joining Pepper Rogers' staff at UCLA in 1971. Stiles served as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator for the Bruins under Dick Vermeil from 1974-75 and helped lead the Bruins into the Rose Bowl in 1976. As head coach at San Jose State from 1976-78, Stiles' teams won two PCAA championships and compiled an 18-16 record before he joined the Eagles in 1979. With the Eagles, Stiles oversees the team's scouting department. Lynn and his wife Marigene live in Moorestown, NJ, with their four children: Staci 19, Shon 15, Tiffany 7, and Blake 5.

BILL BAKER, Talent Scout

Bill Baker, who served as the Eagles' Western region scout from 1975-1981, rejoined the Birds' scouting staff on May 23, 1984, in that same capacity. Baker left the Eagles in September, 1982, to become the director of player personnel for the Arizona Wranglers. In July, 1983, he returned to the NFL as a talent scout with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Baker, 57 (November 26, 1927), is a native of Knoxville, TN. He played college football at Tennessee (1947-49) and at Wyoming (1950-51) as a center and linebacker. Baker began coaching in 1952 at Newcastle High School in Wyoming and compiled a 24-2-1 record there through 1954. From 1955-1961 he was head coach at Chadron (NE) State College, where he registered a 30-26-1 record. His undefeated (8-0) team of 1958 earned Baker coach of the year honors in the Nebraska Conference. Baker then moved to Wyoming, where he was the offensive line and kicking coach from 1962-1970. He performed the same duties at Arizona from 1971-72. Baker and his wife Marjorie reside in Tucson, AZ. They have a married daughter, Vicky, and two sons, Bill, Jr., 31, and Mike 29.

LOU BLUMLING, Talent Scout

Lou Blumling joined the Eagles in June, 1984, after spending the previous 14 years with the BLESTO scouting combine. With the Eagles, Blumling is responsible for the Midwest region of the United States. Blumling worked for BLESTO as an area scout for six years before becoming a regional (East) scout in 1976. Blumling, 56 (January 26, 1929), was born in Wheeling, WV, and graduated from Magnolia High School in New Martinsville, WV. He then went on to West Liberty State, where he was a halfback and defensive back from 1948-1951 and lettered in basketball, baseball, and golf. Blumling was a prep assistant from 1952-53 before serving as a head coach at Pine Grove High (WV) from 1953-54, and St. John's High (Bellaire, OH) for the next eight years, and Powhatan High (OH) from 1961-62. He then joined current Miami Dolphins assistant Tom Keane's staff with the Wheeling Ironmen of the United Football League (eventually known as the Continental Football League) in 1963 as offensive backfield coach for three years and defensive coordinator from 1966-67. From 1968-69, Blumling was head coach of the Ironmen. He compiled a 16-8 record during that time, including a 10-2 mark in 1968 that earned him coach of the year honors. Following the collapse of the Continental Football League, Blumling joined BLESTO in 1970. Blumling and his wife JoAnn reside in Lafayette, IN. They have four sons, Jim 28, Bob 24, Tom 17, Jay 16; and a daughter, Kim 26.

OTHO DAVIS, Head Athletic Trainer

Otho Davis, a certified and licensed athletic trainer, is one of the most highly respected trainers in the country. He is in his 13th year as head trainer for the Eagles. Davis is currently the executive director of the National Athletic Trainers Association and formerly served as president of the Pennsylvania Athletic Trainers Society. A native of Elgin, TX, Davis, 51 (February 8, 1934), attended South Park High in Beaumont and later earned a B.S. degree in physical education from Lamar University in 1957 and an M.A. degree in 1964 from Kent State, where he was head trainer from 1957-1965. Davis became head trainer and assistant professor of physical education at Duke in 1965 and remained there until 1971 when he entered the NFL as associate trainer of the Baltimore Colts. He joined the Eagles in 1973 as head trainer. Davis supervises a training facility and program that rank among the best in professional sports. In particular, he oversees the Eagles' use of the new set of Ariel Computerized Exercise Machines, a state-of-the-art system which will aid in the training and rehabilitation practices. Davis' skills have been recognized by the National Athletic Trainers Association, which named him "Professional Trainer of the Year" in 1977, 1978, 1980, and 1981, and the Citizens Savings Athletic Foundation, which inducted him into the Athletic Trainers Hall of Fame in 1981. In 1982, he received the Distinguished Service Award for Sports Medicine from the American Orthopedics Society for Sports Medicine. He also is listed in "Who's Who in the East." Davis resides in Mt. Laurel, NJ, and is the father of four sons: Mark 28, Harry Roy 22, Richard 20, and Tom 17.

Davis also is very active in the education of young trainers and has established a unique program to give outstanding prospects the opportunity to work on the professional level. He will be assisted this year by Eric Nussbaum, a 22-year-old graduate of Millersville University who was born and raised in Akron, PA.

STEVE WATTERSON, Assistant Trainer

Steve Watterson, a product of Otho Davis' intern program, is beginning his second year as assistant trainer. Watterson works extensively with head trainer Otho Davis and Tim Jorgensen, the Eagles' strength and conditioning coordinator, establishing and supervising rehabilitation programs for injured players. For the previous four years, Watterson, 28 (November 27, 1956), was head trainer at Amphitheater High School in Tucson, AZ.

He also served as a trainer at the Olympic development camp in Colorado Springs in 1982 and the National Sports Festival in the summer of 1983. From 1979-1980, he was head trainer at Tucson High School. Watterson worked for the Eagles during the summer of 1978. A native of Newport, RI, Watterson attended Rogers High School in Newport and graduated from the University of Rhode Island. He has a master's degree in athletic training from the University of Arizona. Steve and his wife Denise reside in Tabernacle, NJ.

TIM JORGENSEN, Strength and Conditioning Coordinator

Tim Jorgensen came to the Eagles in March, 1984, to fill the newly created position of strength and conditioning coordinator. He also is State of Pennsylvania director for the National Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association. Tim recently aided Eagles' coach Chuck Clausen in developing a strength and conditioning manual. Prior to joining the Eagles' staff, Jorgensen served as the strength coach at Louisiana State University since 1980. At LSU, he organized weight-training programs for all of the school's athletic teams and specialized in football. He was the director of the Louisiana chapter of the National Strength Coaches Association. A graduate of Southwest Missouri State, Jorgensen, 30 (April 21, 1955), was a graduate assistant at his alma mater from 1977-79 and served in a similar capacity at Alabama from 1979-1980. A native of St. Louis, MO, Jorgensen competed in football and track in college after attending Jennings High School. Jorgensen and his wife Cindy have a daughter Jackie, 2. They reside in Marlton, NJ.

VINCENT J. DISTEFANO, M.D., Team Physician

Dr. Vincent J. DiStefano has served as Eagles' team physician for the past 14 seasons. A native of South Philadelphia, he received his undergraduate education at Temple University (A.B. degree in 1959) and his medical training at the Hahnemann College Medical School (M.D. degree in 1963). DiStefano, 46 (Aug. 30, 1938), served as a physician in the U.S. Navy from 1964 to 1966 and currently specializes in orthopedics at the Paoli (PA) Memorial Hospital along with the Eagles' orthopedic consultant Dr. Herman Phillips. He is also associated with the Paoli Sports Medicine Clinic and is a member of the American College of Sports Medicine and The American Orthopaedic Society of Sports Medicine.

RUSTY SWEENEY, Equipment Manager

Rusty Sweeney has overseen the equipment operation of the Eagles since 1970. A native of Brazosport, TX, Sweeney, 38 (May 10, 1947), was raised in Lake Jackson, TX, and learned his trade as a student equipment manager at Lamar University in Beaumont, TX, where he majored in physical education and history. Sweeney and his wife Connie reside in Ridley Park, PA, with their daughter Kelly 8, and son Rushford Lee IV 5.

Sweeney's assistant in the equipment department is Mike Kane, 28 (February 21, 1957), a native of Darby, PA, who is a graduate of St. James High School in Chester and has been with the club since 1975. Kane and his wife Helen live in Glenolden, PA, with sons Michael 5 and Christopher 2.

Born: 12/29/59

Draft 7, 1982

Year Eagle: 4

Year NFL: 4

PRO: "Harvey didn't play a lot at nose tackle last season, but he saw a lot of action in the 4-3 alignment and did a good job of rushing the passer," said Campbell. "He also played well in goal-line and short-yardage situations. Harvey was able to stay healthy most of last year, and I think that helped his performance." ... has good strength and quickness ... played in all 16 games in 1984 and has now played in 38 straight games ... saw majority of playing time in the nickel defense at tackle and end when the Eagles shifted into a 4-3 pass rush alignment ... became a "starter" in short-yardage and goal-line situations beginning with the seventh game vs. Indianapolis ... an integral part of the goal-line stands at Detroit and Miami, and in the Eagles' 16-10 victory over Washington on Nov. 18 ... three of his 13 total tackles (7 solos) were quarterback sacks ... his sack of Neil Lomax late in the fourth quarter at St. Louis caused a fumble that was recovered by Dennis Harrison and led to a field goal by Paul McFadden that temporarily put the Birds in the lead ... also contributed 12 quarterback pressures; 13 total tackles on special teams, including eight initial hits ... played in all 16 games in 1983 ... frequently replaced starter Ken Clarke on every third defensive series beginning vs. Baltimore on Oct. 23 ... played defensive end on Eagles' 4-3 pass rush alignment ... finished with 21 tackles (14 solos) ... credited with career-high 3½ quarterback sacks, fourth on club ... also ranked fourth in quarterback pressures with eight ... tied for second in opponents' fumbles recovered with two ... added 11 tackles (seven initial hits) on special teams ... had best effort vs. Giants with six tackles ... played second half of season with sprained knee suffered vs. Baltimore ... saw action in eight games as a rookie in 1982, mostly on special teams ... credited with three tackles and one quarterback pressure.

COLLEGE: Four-year starter on the defensive line ... credited with 382 total tackles, 27 of them for losses, including 16 quarterback sacks ... broke in at SMU with 147 tackles as a freshman and was named the Southwest Conference's defensive newcomer of the year by Texas Football magazine ... won All-SWC honors as a junior and senior after being slowed by a knee injury in his sophomore year ... also named to Football Coaches' first team All-America and Mizlou/Hartford Insurance first team All-America ... played in the Hula, Japan, and Olympia Gold bowls following his senior year ... played for Eagles' defensive line coach Tom Brasher at SMU ... teammate of Eagles' free safety Wes Hopkins.

PERSONAL: Single ... has degree in business ... was busy last offseason visiting children's hospitals and prisons in the Houston area ... also visited schools and talked to athletes about the value of an education ... enjoys singing in the church choir ... born in Houston, TX, where he lettered in football and track at Kashmere High School ... makes his offseason home in Houston.

GAMES PLAYED-STARTED: 1982 (8-0); 1983 (16-0); 1984 (16-0).

Kansas State 6-5 260 Born: 1/5/57
 Free Agent, 1981 Year Eagle: 5 Year NFL: 5

PRO: "Greg had an outstanding year for us in 1984," said Campbell. "He was a real big-play guy. That was evident in his quarterback sack total. He got his weight up to around 260 pounds and still played with the same intensity and stamina. Greg definitely is a hard-worker. He's got all the physical abilities, including great quickness, but what really stands out is the fact that he keeps fighting all the time, giving that second-effort" ... started all 16 games in 1984 ... emerged last year as one of the top pass rushers in the NFL ... helped Eagles' defensive unit set season record for quarterback sacks (60) ... was the team leader in sacks with a career-high 16, second in the NFC and fourth in the NFL behind Mark Gastineau (NYJ-22), Andre Tippett (NE-18.5), and Richard Dent (Chi.-17.5)

... got off to a quick start by recording at least one-half sack in each of the first six games ... proved to be very consistent ... registered part of a sack in 12 of 16 games including a personal career-high of four at Atlanta in the final game of the season ... made key sack in fourth quarter vs. Giants Oct. 21 when he stripped ball from Phil Simms enabling teammate Jerry Robinson to make recovery at New York's 8-yard line and set up Eagles' winning touchdown pass ... also was effective against the run ... finished second on the team in total tackles with 128 (95 solos), tops among linemen ... matched his career high of 14 tackles (Nov. 21, 1983 vs. NY Giants) at Washington, including two sacks, playing against 300-pound all-pro Joe Jacoby ... registered 10 tackles at Detroit, vs. Dallas, and at Atlanta; and made nine each at Dallas and vs. New England ... also ranked second on the team in both quarterback pressures (34) and forced fumbles (3) ... played in all 16 games in 1983 and started the last five in place of Carl Hairston at defensive end ... finished as the Eagles' seventh leading tackler with 73 stops (51 solos) ... registered 8½ quarterback sacks, second on club ... contributed six quarterback pressures and ranked second on team with three forced fumbles ... earned first start vs. Giants Nov. 20, and responded with 14 tackles, including 11 solos and two sacks ... had 11 tackles vs. Saints, eight vs. Rams, and seven including two sacks at St. Louis ... added 13 tackles on special teams duty ... played in all nine games in 1982, registering four sacks and leading the team with three fumble recoveries ... recovered fumble by Danny White in the Cowboys' end zone in a 24-20 upset victory at Dallas ... played in all 16 games as a rookie in 1981 and finished second on the team with 7½ sacks ... also had 17 pressures, three forced fumbles, and two recovered fumbles ... picked up a fumble by Joe Theismann and scored on a 7-yard run in 36-13 victory over Washington ... won spot on roster as a designated pass rusher after a fine training camp showing and had two sacks and five pressures in opening day defeat of Giants at the Meadowlands ... signed as a free agent with the Eagles in 1981 on the recommendation of John Teerlink, his line coach at Eastern Illinois, who happened to meet him in Washington, D.C., where Brown was working in construction after leaving college ... entered Eagles' spring mini-camp as a rookie weighing only 222 pounds but increased to 235 by summer training camp ... devoured three huge meals a day, including large amounts of ice cream, and raised weight to 245 by the end of camp.

COLLEGE: Began college at Kansas State and spent three years there although he played only sparingly from 1976 through 1978 ... returned a fumble for a touchdown as a sophomore against Florida State ... transferred to Eastern Illinois in December of 1978 ... spent only one season there but never was eligible to play because of NCAA transfer rule ... left school to help support his family in Washington, D.C.

6-2 225

Born: 12/27/61

Draft 1, 1983

Year Eagle: 3

Year NFL: 3

PRO: "Michael averaged only 2.7 yards per carry last season, but much of that is because he was mainly called upon in short-yardage situations," said Campbell. "This will be an important year for Michael. We'd like him to show that he can be a starter. I'm counting on him to demonstrate that. I've got confidence in Michael's abilities" ... played in 14 games in 1984 before missing the final two with an ankle injury ... after performing at both running back and fullback as a rookie, concentrated on fullback last season and was the Eagles' third-leading rusher with 130 yards and one touchdown on 48 carries ... 12 of his 48 carries resulted in first downs ... ranked fourth in pass receptions with 33 for 231 yards ... caught career-high six passes (33 yards) at Detroit and again four weeks later vs. Dallas (42 yards) ... had best rushing effort at Miami when he replaced injured Wilbert Montgomery and gained 55 yards on nine carries, including a 21-yard burst, the longest of his career ... also performed well on special teams last season, registering 19 tackles (12 solos) ... earned special teams' game ball in victory at Buffalo for his efforts on kick and punt coverage ... played in 14 games and started nine as a rookie in 1983 ... was third leading rusher on the team with 220 yards and two TDs on 91 attempts ... caught 23 passes for 254 yards (11.0 avg., 34 LG) ... also returned three kickoffs 51 yards ... started four of first five games at running back ... led all rushers with career-high 76 yards (one TD) on 24 carries (Eagles season high) in opening day victory at San Francisco despite being sidelined by an ankle injury in third quarter ... also rushed for a touchdown vs. St. Louis ... a tough blocker with exceptional speed (4.5 in the 40) for a fullback.

Year Eagle: 3

Born: 9/26/61
Year NFL: 3

PRO: "Wes is one of the best free safeties in football," said Campbell. "He is an intimidator, to say the least, and he's a clean hitter all the way. Wes is a sure, sharp tackler who just loves to hit people. When Wes hits you, you know you've been popped. And he also showed with his five interceptions last year what he can do when he gets his hands on the ball." ... played in all 16 games and started 15 in 1984 ... picked up where he left off in his rookie year and continued to forge a reputation as one of the most feared hitters in the NFL ... added a new dimension to his play by becoming a ball-hawking centerfielder at free safety ... selected first team All-NFL by the Newspaper Enterprise Association and first team All-NFC by Pro Football Weekly ... was voted as a first alternate to the NFC squad for the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl ... ranked among top three on the team in five defensive categories ... led the Eagles for the second consecutive year in fumbles caused (four) and for the first time in fumbles recovered (three) ... finished second in interceptions (five) and interception return yardage (107), both career-highs ... was the Birds' third-leading tackler with 128 (73 solos) ... registered 1½ quarterback sacks ... also proved to be a terror on special teams by often pressuring punters into hurried kicks ... had his best all-around game in the Eagles' 27-17 victory over New England on Dec. 9 when his partial block of a punt by Rich Camarillo gave the Birds the ball at the Patriots' 3-yard line and set up an insurance touchdown ... he then snuffed the Patriots' comeback hopes when he intercepted a pass by Tony Eason in the Eagles' end zone and returned it 27 yards ... also made a big play in the third quarter by slamming Craig James to the ground with a solo tackle that rendered his former SMU teammate ineffective for the remainder of the game after he had gained nearly 90 yards rushing to that point ... recorded first NFL interception against Joe Theismann at Washington ... intercepted two passes vs. Dallas on Dec. 2 and made a spectacular diving interception and returned it 33 yards vs. St. Louis on Oct. 28 ... played key role in Eagles' 16-10 victory over Washington on Nov. 18 when he caused and recovered a fumble by John Riggins inside the Eagles' 10-yard line and later recovered another fumble ... led the team in tackles at Dallas (13), vs. St. Louis (12) ... had 11 each at Miami and NY Giants, and 10 at Atlanta ... missed start at Washington but did play entire second half despite bruised knee suffered the previous week vs. San Francisco ... returned from a preseason hamstring injury in 1983 to start 14 games at free safety as a rookie ... shared fourth place on Birds' tackle chart with 105 stops (63 solos) and led team with four forced fumbles, three of which were recovered by Eagles ... saved possible touchdowns by stripping Dallas's Ron Springs at Eagles' 5-yard line and LA Rams' Eric Dickerson at Eagles' 6-yard line ... tied for third with 10 passes broken up ... only Eagles defensive back to record a quarterback sack ... started first seven games before being sidelined for two consecutive weeks after suffering thigh injury at Dallas ... returned to start the final seven games.

COLLEGE: Freshman walk-on who went on to become SMU's all-time interception yardage leader with 231 on 14 interceptions, third best in school history ... Mustangs' starting free safety as a sophomore, but moved to strong safety as junior and senior ... led secondary in tackles and had four interceptions vs. Houston, including 66-yard TD return, as junior ... named most valuable defensive player of the Cotton Bowl in 7-3 victory over Pittsburgh as senior ... led Southwest Conference with six interceptions and Mustangs' secondary with 74 tackles in final season ... played in the 1983 Hula Bowl.

PERSONAL: Single ... made a televised public service announcement in December, 1984, on behalf of WCAU-TV's holiday food drive which aided the needy citizens of Philadelphia by collecting 55,000 pounds of canned food ... underwent rigorous training for much of the offseason following 1983 under the watchful eye of a boxing coach at a Dallas Boys' Club ... participated in all phases of boxing training except ring work in order to develop better quickness and hand-eye coordination ... enjoys playing basketball and the trombone ... played little as senior at Carroll High in his birthplace of Birmingham, AL, because of injuries but attended SMU at the urging of his uncle, Jim Lee, a Dallas businessman ... also lettered in track in high school ... favorite athlete is Drew Pearson (Dallas) whom he has known since the ninth grade through his uncle, a friend of Pearson's ... resides in Dallas ... is one of seven Eagles involved as shareholders in Paragon Sports, Inc., a Dallas-based sports investment and contract advisory company which specializes in providing professional athletes with information on real estate, taxation, investments, financial planning, and career opportunities.

Draft 1, 1984

Year Eagle: 2

Year NFL: 2

PRO: "Kenny was really getting to the level where we wanted him to be—that level where he was gaining the necessary confidence—when he turned a short pass into a spectacular 83-yard touchdown against the New York Giants," said Campbell. "I figured that TD would not only help Kenny, but that it would also give opposing secondaries someone else to worry about. I figured that would better enable Mike Quick to get open. But, unfortunately, Kenny separated his shoulder and we didn't get to see that come to fruition." ... the Eagles' first round pick and the fourth player chosen overall in the 1984 draft ... sure-handed, graceful receiver who can make the difficult catches ... team-oriented player with fine downfield blocking ability; works hard at perfecting that aspect of his game ... played in 11 games and started nine ... moved into starting lineup on opening day after strong preseason showing, including a 24-yard touchdown reception on his first play as a professional at Detroit ... started the first seven games and registered 22 receptions for 343 yards by mid-season ... made season-high five receptions for 65 yards at Buffalo and made four catches each vs. San Francisco (87 yards), Minnesota (36 yards), and Indianapolis (35 yards) ... flashed his gamebreaking potential in week eight against the NY Giants when he took a short pass from Ron Jaworski and used his outstanding speed to streak past four defenders on his way to an 83-yard TD in the first quarter ... early in the second quarter, however, suffered a separated shoulder and was placed on injured reserve on Oct. 22 ... reactivated on Nov. 23 and played in place of injured Mike Quick one week later vs. Dallas ... returned to starting lineup for final two games vs. New England (2-26) and at Atlanta (2-29) ... finished season with 26 receptions for 398 yards (15.3-yard average) and one TD.

COLLEGE: One of the greatest receivers in Penn State history ... flourished as a junior on Penn State's national championship team when he was selected first team All-America by AP, UPI, and The Sporting News, and first team All-East by AP ... first Nittany Lions' wide receiver ever selected first team All-America ... also named first team All-America as a senior by NEA, second team All-America and first team All-East by AP, and honorable mention All-America by UPI ... played in Hula and Japan bowls ... established 27 Penn State receiving records, including career marks for yards (2,006), touchdowns (25), and 100-yard games (6) ... only second player in school history to catch more than 100 passes (109) ... averaged 18.4 yards per catch during career ... caught at least one pass in 40 of 45 regular season contests ... scored six of 27 career touchdowns vs. arch rival Pittsburgh ... had productive senior campaign despite facing frequent double coverage ... caught 28 passes for 483 yards and seven TDs ... rushed 22 times for 174 yards (7.9-yard average) and two TDs during career, including a 55-yard reverse for a touchdown vs. Brown in 1983 ... returned 21 punts for 150 yards in four years at Penn State ... teamed with Todd Blackledge (Kansas City's first-round pick in 1983) to form a lethal passing combination on Penn State's first national championship team in 1982 ... set Lions' season receiving yardage record (697) on 41 catches ... averaged 17.0 yards per catch and had seven TD receptions ... set school record with three consecutive 100-yard receiving games vs. Boston College (4-104-2 TDs), NC State (7-122), and Notre Dame (6-114) ... six of his 19 recep-

Born: 3/23/51

Year Eagle: 9

Year NFL: 12

PRO: "It was unfortunate that Ron was forced out of the lineup by a broken leg just as our team was on the upswing," said Campbell. "We'd won a few games and played very well in some tough losses. And Ron was doing a good job with the offense, really spreading the ball around in the passing game, utilizing all the receivers. Ron will enter camp as our number-one quarterback. I'm not worried about his rehabilitation. He'll find a way to get it done; he always has. Ron should still have his mobility, and I think he has enough of it to do the job. Besides, he's basically always been a pocket passer and so are 90 percent of the quarterbacks today in the NFL." ... started the first 13 games of 1984 before suffering a fractured left fibula on the third play of the game at St. Louis on Nov. 25 ... underwent surgery on Nov. 27 (performed by Dr. Herman Phillips) which included placing a stainless steel plate on the fibula ... the injury caused him to miss the final three games of the season and snapped his streak of 116 consecutive regular season starts (believed to be an all-time NFL record for quarterbacks) ... last QB to start a game for Eagles prior to Jaworski's streak was Roman Gabriel in final game of 1976 ... Eagles were 60-55-1 in Jaworski's 116 regular season starts and 3-4 in playoff games he started ... enters this season needing just 173 yards passing to reach 23,000 yards for his NFL career ... has completed 1,759 of 3,313 pass attempts (53.1%) for 22,827 yards and 151 touchdowns during his 11 years in the NFL ... entering his ninth season with Philadelphia, "Jaws" already owns Eagles' records for career pass attempts (3,189), completions (1,705), passing yardage (22,108), and touchdowns (150) ... reached the 22,800-yard mark for his NFL career in the 12th game last year vs. Washington when he completed 14 of 28 passes for 127 yards ... also holds club mark for most pass attempts in a season, 461 in 1981 ... is tied with Norm Snead for second place in Eagles' history in 300-yard passing games (8), and trails only Sonny Jurgensen (10) ... finished last season as the 10th leading passer in the NFC with 234-427-2,754-16 TDs-14 INTs ... his passing yardage, attempts, and completion figures all were the fourth-highest figures in his career ... voted offensive captain by his teammates in 1984 ... earned offensive game ball at Buffalo where he completed 24 of 38 passes for 234 yards, two TDs and sealed the victory with a gutsy one-yard touchdown run on fourth-and-goal ... suffered a fractured rib on the play but returned the following week vs. Indianapolis wearing a custom-made rib protector and led the Eagles to victory with a 21-29-194-1 TD passing effort in the first half before being sidelined for the remainder of the game with back spasms ... delivered solid performance in tough 24-23 loss at Miami (14-25-203) where he capped two long scoring drives in the first quarter with touchdown passes and closed the Dolphins' lead to one point with a 38-yard TD pass to Melvin Hoover with 1:52 remaining to play ... completed game-winning one-yard TD pass to John Spagnola vs. Minnesota on fourth-and-goal play with seven seconds remaining ... connected with Mike Quick on a 90-yard touchdown pass vs. St. Louis, the longest of both players' careers and the longest in the NFC in 1984 ... also tied the third longest TD pass of his career with 83-yard strike to Kenny Jackson vs. N.Y. Giants (tied for second-longest in NFC in 1984) ... in 1984, threw for over 250 yards five times, including 340 (22-38-2 TD) vs. St. Louis ... ninth leading passer in NFC in 1983, with 235-446-3,315-20

TDs-18 INTs ... threw for over 220 yards eight times including 333 at Washington (19-36-3 TDs) and 326 vs. Washington at the Vet (24-37-1 TD) ... rushed 25 times for career-high 129 yards and scored one TD that year ... voted game ball in victory at Atlanta for his 16-28-239-3 TD effort, including game-winning 53-yard scoring pass to Quick ... threw 29-yard TD pass to Tony Woodruff with 21 seconds to play in victory over L.A. Rams ... opened the 1982 season with a career-best 371 passing yards (27-38) vs. Washington ... threw for 334 yards (25-41) the following week at Cleveland ... passed for 3,095 yards in 1981 to join Sonny Jurgensen as the only quarterback in club history to go over the 3,000-yard mark in successive years ... enjoyed his finest pro season in 1980, winning the Maxwell Football Club's Bert Bell Award as NFL player of the year after leading the Eagles to the NFC championship and into Super Bowl XV ... ranked as the top passer in the NFC (second in NFL) ... had career highs for passing yardage (3,529), completions (257), and TD passes (27) ... tied personal-low with only 12 interceptions ... was named UPI's NFC player of the year and was selected to the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl ... rated as NFC's third best passer in 1979 (190-374-2,669-18 TDs-12 INTs) ... originally was a second round draft choice of the Rams in 1973 ... spent 1973 season on Rams' taxi squad and did not play ... acquired by the Eagles on March 9, 1977, in exchange for the rights to tight end Charle Young.

COLLEGE: Attended Youngstown State, where he enjoyed an outstanding career ... completed 325 of 658 pass attempts for 4,612 yards and 32 TDs ... threw 18 TD passes as a senior and finished fifth among NCAA small college passers by completing 139 of 259 passes for 2,123 yards ... played in the Senior Bowl and the 1972 Ohio Shrine Bowl.

VYTO KAB, TE

Penn State 6-5
Draft 3, 1982

240 Born: 12/23/59

PRO: "Vyto made big strides in terms of consistency last year," said Campbell. "In 1983 he caught or dropped passes in streaks. Last year his level of concentration as a receiver was much better. He ended up catching nine passes (102 yards) three of which were for touchdowns. Once again, Vyto showed that he's a heckuva blocking tight end. Vyto teams up with John [Spagnola] to give us a good one-two punch in our double-tight end formation. I feel Vyto improved in all areas in 1984." ... played in all 16 games and started three in 1984 ... proved to be a valuable weapon inside the opponents' 10-yard line, not only as a powerful blocker but as a receiver ... caught 4-yard TD pass at Buffalo and 2-yard scoring tosses vs. St. Louis and Dallas ... earned offensive game ball in Eagles' 16-10 victory over Washington on Nov. 18 when he caught three passes for 42 yards, including a 24-yarder ... made his longest reception of the year (26 yards) at Atlanta ... started at Detroit, vs. Dallas and New England when Eagles opened with double-tight end alignment ... started first 14 games of 1983 season, replacing injured John Spagnola ... was placed on injured reserve Dec. 14 after suffering ankle injury vs. Rams ... ranked fifth on the team in receptions with 18 for 195 yards and one TD ... best outing was against Baltimore when he caught four passes for 56 yards ... caught 5-yard TD at Atlanta ... played in all nine games as a rookie with four starts ... caught four passes for 35 yards, including a 2-yard touchdown from Ron Jaworski against the Giants at the Vet for his first NFL score.

COLLEGE: Emerged as a junior at Penn State after playing sparingly in his freshman year and missing most of his sophomore year with a knee injury ... became starter as a senior when he was awarded the Red Worrell Award for "exemplary conduct, loyalty, interest, attitude, and improvement" ... missed three games as a senior in 1981 because of back spasms ... caught seven passes that year ... was teammate of Eagles' wide receiver Kenny Jackson ... played in Senior Bowl.

PERSONAL: Pronounced: VEE-toe CAB ... was married last May (Patti Sue) ... has degree in food service and housing administration ... also has earned credits toward MBA at Temple University ... co-owns and operates a custom clothing company called TELB along with teammate Anthony Griggs ... TELB stands for their respective positions—Kab is a tight end and Griggs a linebacker ... participated in numerous fund-raising and charitable events in the Delaware Valley this past offseason including events benefitting Eagles Fly for Leukemia, American Cancer Society, and the annual Garry Maddox Celebrity Bowl for the Philadelphia Child Guidance Clinic ... also participated in the March of Dimes and National Juvenile Diabetes telethons ... born in Albany, GA ... was scholastic All-America at DePaul High School in Wayne, NJ, where he and Tommy Vigorito (Miami Dolphins) led team to state title ... resides in Cherry Hill, NJ.

PAUL McFADDEN, K

Youngstown State
Draft 12, 1984

5-11 155
Year Eagle: 2

Born: 9/24/61
Year NFL: 2

PRO: "Paul had a super season for us in 1984," said Campbell. "I don't know of a kicker who gave a team any more than Paul gave us. He did it from everywhere, even outside 50 yards, and he did it consistently. If there is an area where Paul can improve his performance it is on kickoffs, and he knows that. He worked very hard on his kickoffs during the offseason. I think he can get the job done, because of all the players we have, he puts as much concentration into his work as anyone." ... kicks right-footed and bare-footed ... was the Eagles' Cinderella story in 1984 ... after being drafted in 12th round, he went on to rewrite the Birds' record book and rank among the league's premier kickers ... was selected NFC rookie of the year by UPI and PRO! magazine ... named first team All-NFL by College and Pro Football Newsweekly and second team All-NFC by UPI and Pro Football Weekly, and was voted the Eagles' special teams player of the year by his teammates ... converted 30 of 37 field goal attempts and 26 of 27 extra points for 116 points, the highest single season figure in Eagles' history, surpassing the mark of 114 set by Bobby Walston in 1954 ... ranked fourth in the NFC in scoring, fifth in the NFL, and led all rookies ... his 30 field goals were the highest total in the NFL last season and shattered Tom Dempsey's team mark of 24 set in 1973 ... tied Raul Allegre (Colts, 1983) for the third-most field goals by a rookie in NFL history behind Ali Haji-Sheikh (35 with the NY Giants in 1983) and Chester Marcol (33 with Green Bay in 1972) ... ranked second in the NFC in field goal accuracy (81.1%), third in the NFL ... shared the league lead for accuracy on kicks of 50 yards-or-more (75%, 3-4) ... became the first rookie in NFL history and the first Eagle to kick two field goals of 50 yards-or-more in one game when he converted attempts of 52 and 51 yards at Detroit on Nov. 4 ... only nine other players in the NFL have ever accomplished this feat ... won the Golden Toe Award from Pro Football Weekly for his efforts at Detroit, which also included a 40-yarder with three seconds remaining that sent that game into overtime, and vs. Minnesota when he was successful on all four attempts (27,37,49,37) ... also earned the offensive game ball from his teammates in the Birds' 19-17 victory over Minnesota when he became the first Eagle to kick at least four field goals in a game since Tom Dempsey made six at Houston in 1972 ... won special teams' game ball in 16-7 victory over Indianapolis when he connected on all three attempts (34,32,33) ... made nine consecutive field goals beginning with a 35-yarder vs. San Francisco before missing an attempt from 52 yards vs. the NY Giants (Eagles' record of 12 was set by Sam Baker from 1966-67) ... credits Frank Gansz, the Eagles' tight ends and special teams coach, with enhancing his level of concentration and mental toughness through positive thinking and hard work.

COLLEGE: Enrolled at Youngstown State as a soccer player but emerged as the top kicker in the school's football history ... established career records for the Penguins in field goals (52), PAT's (87), and kick-scoring (243, second overall scorer) as a four-year letterman ... converted 98 percent of PAT attempts (87-89) and 58 percent of field goal tries (52-88) during career ... was second team All-Ohio Valley Conference as a sophomore and junior and second team All-Mid Continent Conference as a freshman ... ranked fifth in Division I-AA kick-scoring as a junior (17-27 FG, 21-22 PAT, 72 points); seventh as a sophomore (14-21 FG, 22-23 PAT, 64 points) ... his 17 field goals in 1982 set a school season record ... set school record for field goals in one game with four at Akron (including 53-yarder) and four vs. Northern Iowa in 1982 ... originally enrolled as a soccer player and played for Penguins' varsity booters as a freshman in 1979 ... switched to football the following year despite never having played in an organized game ... set a school and Mid-Continent Conference record for longest field goal (54 yards vs. Murray State) on his first attempt ever and kicked a 52-yarder moments later.

HUBIE OLIVER, FB

Arizona 5-10 212 Born: 11/12/57

Draft 10, 1981

Year Eagle: 4

Year NFL: 4

PRO: "Hubie is just one tough, tough player," said Campbell. "He is probably as good a blocking back as there is in the league. He does a lot of good things that are not reflected in personal statistics." ... played in all 16 games and started 15 in 1984 ... ranked second on the team in rushing with 263 yards on 72 carries ... was Eagles' fifth-leading receiver with 32 receptions for 142 yards ... had best rushing effort (9 for 39 yards) at Miami ... caught four passes each vs. Indianapolis (39 yards) and at Atlanta (21 yards) ... voted offensive game ball by his teammates in 24-10 victory over NY Giants which included his devastating block on blitzing defender Carl Banks ... CBS-TV commentator John Madden referred to the play as "possibly the hardest block I've ever seen put on a blitzing linebacker" ... had started 30 consecutive games before missing start vs. New England when Eagles began with a triple-tight end alignment ... started 16 games in 1983 ... led Eagles in rushing with career-high figures for yards (434) and carries (121) ... averaged 3.6 yards per rush, including a long of 24 yards and one touchdown ... was Birds' second leading receiver with 49 catches for 421 yards and two TDs, all career highs ... won game ball following victory vs. Giants at the Meadowlands when he rushed eight times for 46 yards and caught five passes for 73 yards ... caught at least one pass in 15 games, and four or more eight times ... had TD receptions at San Francisco and Washington and ran for a score vs. LA

Rams ... was placed on injured reserve after suffering a knee injury in final pre-season game of 1982 that kept him out of action for first four games ... was on the active roster for the fifth and sixth games that year, but returned to the injured reserve list for final three games ... was second leading rusher as a rookie in 1981 when he carried 74 times for 329 yards and one TD ... began that season as a third-string fullback but became a starter after Leroy Harris broke his arm in pre-season and Perry Harrington broke a leg in the fourth game of the regular season ... rushed for 68 yards on 10 attempts, including a 39-yard burst, in his first NFL start, a Monday night victory vs. Atlanta.

COLLEGE: Won four varsity letters at Arizona and second team All-Pac 10 honors as a sophomore ... finished career as the second leading rusher in school history with 3,061 yards and 18 TDs ... caught 44 passes in final three seasons ... enjoyed his best year as a junior with 1,021 yards rushing and a 5.2-yards per carry average ... rushed for over 100 yards nine times during career, including 196-yard effort vs. Colorado State in 1979 ... best game as senior included 145 yards rushing vs. University of the Pacific ... played in East-West Shrine Game and led West squad in rushing with 49 yards ... was not heavily recruited in high school but received scholarship to Arizona after his prep basketball coach contacted a friend in the Wildcats' football office.

PERSONAL: Wife Joyce ... son Hubert Andre, 8 ... majored in liberal arts ... earned nickname "Rockman" while in college because of his solid physique and toughness ... born in Elyria, OH, and was All-Ohio selection in football and basketball at Elyria High School ... makes his offseason home in Elyria.

JOE PISARCIK, QB

New Mexico State 6-4 217 Born: 7/2/52
Trade/NY Giants, 1980 Year Eagle: 6 Year NFL: 9

PRO: "Joe really did a good job for us when he had to replace Ron Jaworski in the final four games last season," said Campbell. "It's tough for a backup quarterback to sit on the sidelines game after game and stay into it both mentally and in terms of the sharpness of his skills. But Joe came in and led the club well.

He has a real strong arm and can throw the ball long as well as anyone in the NFL. We have confidence in Joe when he's calling the shots. Joe is a proven NFL quarterback." ... played in seven games in 1984 and started the final three ... replaced injured Jaworski (broken leg) on the second offensive series at St. Louis in week 13 and gave one of the best performances of his career in the Birds' one-point loss ... completed 24 of 39 passes for 226 yards and one touchdown vs. Cards ... became the first quarterback other than Jaworski to start for the Eagles since Roman Gabriel (final game of 1976) when he opened against Dallas the following week ... ran for two touchdowns and threw for 205 yards (16 for 29) to lead Eagles past New England, 27-17 ... recorded the first 300-yard passing game of his career at Atlanta, where he completed 24 of 46 for 334 yards and one touchdown ... finished season with 54.5 completion percentage (96 for 176) ... played in five games in 1983 and completed 16 of 34 passes for 172 yards ... won game ball following opening day victory at San Francisco when he relieved injured Jaworski late in second quarter and completed eight of 10 passes for 101 yards and one touchdown ... serves as backup holder to Jaworski for placements ... signed by Giants as a free agent in 1977 after spending the previous three seasons with Calgary of the Canadian Football League ... won starting job as a Giants rookie and played in 13 games en route to UPI all-rookie honors ... enjoyed best NFL season in 1978, throwing for 2,096 yards and 12 touchdowns with the Giants ... started 11 games in 1978 and four in 1979 before being traded to Philadelphia in 1980 for a 1981 sixth round draft choice ... as a three-year starter for Calgary, threw for 4,467 yards, completing 364 of 651 pass attempts with 23 TDs and 29 interceptions.

COLLEGE: Was a two-time All-Missouri Valley Conference choice and New Mexico State's MVP in 1971 ... set nine school career passing records ... played in the Blue-Gray and American Bowl games.

PERSONAL: Pronounced Pih-ZAR-chick ... daughters Kristin, 3 and Lindsey, 2 ... majored in business and marketing ... enjoys golf and racquetball ... regularly attends Eagles' and Phillies' Christmas party, sponsored by No Greater Love, for children of local firefighters and policemen who were killed in the line of duty ... born in Wilkes-Barre, PA ... was a three-sport star at Kingston (PA) Catholic High School ... makes his offseason home in Bradenton, FL.

North Carolina State 6-2 190

Born: 5/14/59

Draft 1, 1982

Year Eagle: 4

Year NFL: 4

PRO: "Mike is simply a great football player," said Campbell. "He's one of the premier players in the NFL today. The thing that continually amazes me about Mike is what he does after he makes the catch. He can shake defenders by juking them or by taking them straight on. People tend to forget that he is very strong physically. He's an exceptional pass pattern runner and he's got good hands, but it's what he does once he gets the ball that excites me. Mike is a home run hitter in every sense of the word. He can take any kind of pass and go all the way with it."

... one of the most deceptive players in the game ... does not possess blazing speed but has a thoroughbred's pullaway stride, great toughness, and the ability to make the catch in a crowd ... good downfield blocker ... three-year career stats are 140 receptions for 2,617 yards (18.7-yard average) and 23 TDs ... started 14 games in 1984 and missed two others due to injury ... was selected to the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl for the second consecutive year where he made three spectacular catches for 88 yards ... became the first Eagle to have back-to-back 1,000-yard receiving seasons (1,409 in 1983 and 1,052 in 1984) since Tommy McDonald had

1,144 in 1961 and 1,146 in 1962 ... ranked fifth in the NFC, 12th in the NFL in receiving yards ... if he reaches 1,000 yards again in 1985, he will become the first Eagle ever to put together three consecutive 1,000-yard receiving seasons ... led the team in average yards per catch (17.2) ... finished second on the team in receptions (61) ... was one of three Eagles to reach the 60-reception plateau (John Spagnola-65, Wilbert Montgomery-60) ... also was the Eagles' second-leading scorer (54) ... his nine touchdown receptions tied for third-highest in the NFC with Paul Coffman of Green Bay ... 90-yard touchdown reception from Ron Jaworski vs. St. Louis was the longest of the year in the NFC (second in NFL), the longest completion of both players' careers, and the third-longest TD pass play in Eagles' history ... surpassed 100-yards receiving in five games last season to raise his career total to 11 ... enters 1985 ranked seventh on Eagles' all-time list for 100-yard receiving games after only three seasons ... set personal career game-high mark with 170 yards on six receptions vs. St. Louis ... also established personal career game-high figure of 8 receptions (147 yards, 1 TD) on opening day at NY Giants ... other top efforts came at Atlanta (7-135, 1 TD), at Detroit (5-110, including a 68-yard TD), and at St. Louis (8-107, 1 TD) ... earned offensive game ball in victory over Indianapolis when he caught seven passes for 86 yards, including a sensational diving catch of a six-yard TD pass ... missed entire game vs. Minnesota and second half vs. Washington due to tendinitis of the knee ... suffered bruised ribs on second TD catch at St. Louis and did not play the following week vs. Dallas ... started all 16 games in 1983 ... selected as a starter in the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl, first team all-pro by AP, Newspaper Enterprise Association, College and Pro Football Newsweekly, Pro Football Weekly; second team all-pro by Football Digest; first team All-NFC by UPI, and the Eagles' most valuable offensive player by his teammates ... led the NFL and set team record with 1,409 yards receiving, the most in the league since Don Maynard of the NY Jets had 1,434 in 1967 ... also established Eagles' season records for most receptions (69, 6th in NFC), most 100-yard receiving games (6), and most consecutive 100-yard receiving games (4) ... finished second in the NFL with 13 touchdown catches, which tied the Birds' record set by Tommy McDonald in 1960 and 1961 ... became the first Eagles' leading receiver to average more than 20 yards per catch (20.4) since Ben Hawkins in 1967 (21.4) ... averaged 30.5 yards per TD catch and had 28 receptions of 20 or more yards, including nine of over 40 yards ... earned offensive game balls in victories at Denver, at Atlanta, and at the NY Giants ... had 152 yards on six catches at Denver, including a 38-yard TD and another 38-yarder that set up winning field goal ... was 4-122 at Atlanta, including game-winning 53-yard scoring catch with 1:10 remaining ... caught 83-yard TD reception at Dallas ... tied Birds' single season TD reception mark with scoring catch on last play of the game in season finale at St. Louis ... played in all nine games as a rookie in 1982, catching at least one pass in seven of them ... finished season 10-156-1 TD ... scored first NFL touchdown on 49-yard pass vs. Houston ... averaged 15.6 yards per catch, best on the team for players with more than one reception.

COLLEGE: Leading receiver in North Carolina State history with 116 catches for 1,934 yards ... caught 43 passes as a junior to finish third in the Atlantic Coast Conference ... had career-high eight catches for 129 yards vs. Duke as a junior ... named honorable mention All-America as a senior by The Sporting News ... played in the Blue-Gray Game and Olympia Gold Bowl following final season ... college teammate of Ted Brown (Minnesota Vikings) ... also ran track with a best time of 13.8 for 110-meter hurdles.

PERSONAL: Single ... majored in speech communications ... was extremely visible in the Philadelphia area this offseason where he made television public service announcements on behalf of Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Philadelphia, KYW-TV's Project Homeless Fund, WCAU-TV's School Vote program, the Franklin Institute, and for the 7-Eleven/Coca Cola Freedom Run for Sickle Cell of which he also served as honorary chairman ... part owner of seven Arabian show horses and the Grimes Canyon Farms ranch near Thousand Oaks, CA, where they are stabled ... has fine collection of hats and is recognized as a fashionable dresser ... enjoys drawing ... born in Hamlet, NC ... starred in football and on state championship track team at Richmond (NC) High School ... later attended Fork Union (VA) Military Academy where he was named most valuable athlete before earning a scholarship to NC State ... was childhood friend of Louis Breeden (Cincinnati Bengals) ... was honored last February with a special night ("The Pride of Hamlet—The Fantastic Four") in his hometown along with Hamlet's other native sons currently active in professional sports (Breeden, Perry Williams-NY Giants, and Franklin Stubbs-LA Dodgers) ... currently resides in Sicklerville, NJ.

Number one, he's a competitor, a fine downfield blocker. That indicates to me a guy who wants to play. It's not just 'Throw me the ball.' He'll do whatever you ask of him.

—Eagles quarterback Ron Jaworski

He lulls you to sleep, the way he runs routes. He's so smooth, one of those long striders. You don't realize how much ground he is covering, and all of a sudden, he breaks down the cushion you've given him. His speed is deceptive.

—Eagles cornerback Herman Edwards

Speed is important. But it's not what gets the job done. You can run a 4.2 forty, but if you can't run a good route and know how to get open it doesn't matter. You've got to run under control ... Fred Biletnikoff [former Oakland Raider] ran a 4.8, but he knew how to get open and catch the ball.

Free Agent, 1984
Year Eagle: 2
Year NFL: 2

PRO: "Mike came in here a few weeks into the 1984 season and really filled a need for us when Jerry Robinson was hobbled by a shoulder injury," said Campbell. "He is a solid performer against the run. He can take those lead blockers on as well as anyone and can deliver a pretty good wallop, too. Mike is a fine prospect. He needs some improvement on his pass defense like most young linebackers do, but I am confident that he can do it. He's a hard worker." ... played in 12 games and started one in 1984 ... came to training camp as a free agent and was impressive in preseason games before being released on the final cut on Aug. 27 ... re-signed on Sept. 25 when Bill Cowher was placed on injured reserve with a knee injury ... instantly became a force on special teams and finished the season as that unit's second-leading tackler with 35 hits (27 solos) ... gradually began spelling injured Robinson ... played extensively at Miami and shared the team-lead with 11 tackles, including a key hit on fullback Pete Johnson on a fourth-and-goal play from the Eagles' 1-yard line ... also played a major role in a goal-line stand the following week in the Eagles' 16-10 victory over Washington ... started his first NFL game against the Redskins in place of the ailing Robinson ... contributed nine tackles and set up the Eagles' first field goal by recovering a fumbled punt return by Mike Nelms ... went on to finish the season with 31 tackles on defense (23 solos) and four passes defended.

COLLEGE: First player in East Stroudsburg history to be selected first team Little All-America by AP and by Kodak/Coaches in same year (1983) ... three-year starter ... ranked second on team with 147 tackles (86 solo) as a senior ... also intercepted four passes as a senior, including two in the final minute of a victory vs. Bloomsburg State that clinched the Pennsylvania Conference Eastern Division title.

PERSONAL: Pronounced: RYE-ken-bock ... single ... needs just six credits to complete degree in environmental science ... born in Fort Meade, MD ... was a first team all-city selection in football, lettered in baseball and wrestling at Liberty High School in his hometown of Bethlehem, PA (also the hometown of Eagles' tight end John Spagnola) ... is part of Eagles' WMMR radio school speakers program counseling youths to avoid drinking and driving.

Born: 8/17/60

Year Eagle: 3

Year NFL: 3

PRO: "Jody is an outstanding prospect," said Campbell. "Unfortunately, his development has been hampered by a knee injury. Jody underwent reconstructive surgery in the offseason and the rehabilitation process will require him to miss the 1985 season. When he's healthy, Jody is a real participator. He's got good speed to chase people down and the good upper body strength that makes him tough at the point of attack. He's got big play potential because he always seems to be around the ball." ... played in 14 games and started two in 1984 ... missed much of training camp and the first two regular season games while rehabilitating from offseason knee surgery ... was impressive in starts at Dallas and vs. San Francisco in weeks three and four in place of injured Reggie Wilkes ... made seven tackles including a quarterback sack at Dallas ... shared team lead in tackles vs. the 49ers with 10 ... split duty at the left outside linebacker spot with Wilkes during remainder of the season ... finished with 45 tackles (26 solos), 1½ quarterback sacks, and two passes defended ... played in six games and started four as a rookie in 1983 ... moved into starting lineup in preseason after incumbent Reggie Wilkes was sidelined by a knee injury ... was impressive against both the run and pass while starting the first four games at left outside linebacker ... was third leading tackler after four weeks ... finished season with 27 tackles (19 solos) plus three on special teams ... credited with three quarterback pressures, one pass broken up, and one forced fumble ... originally injured knee in fourth quarter at Denver and again vs. St. Louis ... missed next six games before seeing action on special teams at Chicago ... played at linebacker the following week vs. NY Giants but reinjured knee ... underwent arthroscopic surgery on Nov. 21 and was placed on injured reserve two days later for the remainder of the season.

COLLEGE: Transferred from Chowan (MD) Junior College to become East Carolina's premier defensive player in his two varsity seasons ... led team in tackles with 146 (105 solos) as a stand-up defensive end in senior year ... also recorded 10 quarterback sacks and seven other tackles behind the line as senior ... was second leading tackler as junior with 125 hits and team leader with nine sacks en route to team MVP honors ... was also honored by school for overall character, scholarship (Dean's List student), and athletic achievement ... was a walk-on at Chowan in 1979 and watched as fifth string defensive end ... emerged in 1980 as an All-America ... played in Blue-Gray and Japan Bowl all-star games.

PERSONAL: Single ... majored in parks and recreation ... nicknamed "Body Snatcher" by fellow Eagles linebacker Jerry Robinson because of his tackling ability ... Eagles learned of Jody's prowess when East Carolina was playing Temple at Veterans Stadium and Marion Campbell spotted an old acquaintance, ECU assistant Ricky Bussel, and asked if he knew of any good pass rushers ... Bussel suggested Jody and the Birds' scouts liked what they saw of him after that ... for a year after high school he worked on the boats that supply his father's seafood restaurant in Grasonville, MD, before enrolling in junior college ... born in Easton, MD ... was three-year letterman in football at Queen Anne's High School in Centerville, MD ... resides in Chester, MD.

KEVIN ALLEN, T

6-5 285 Draft Round: 1
Indiana Born: 6/21/63

"We went into the draft seeking to fill a need at offensive tackle and with Kevin we did just that," said Eagles head coach Marion Campbell. "We feel that Kevin already is a very good pass protector; he's had a lot of experience in that area because Indiana threw the ball quite frequently. Another thing that attracted us to Kevin is the fact that he can play either left or right tackle. But probably one of the most important plusses we saw in Kevin is that despite playing under three different head coaches and three line coaches, he never once went through a difficult transition as many collegians are apt to do under those circumstances. He always kept working hard and did what the coaches asked him to do. And at the same time, Kevin progressed each season. In fact, he got a lot better as a senior in terms of run-blocking. That says an awful lot about his character. We also liked the fact that he stayed healthy throughout his college career. He's also a dedicated weight lifter who has been preparing intensely for a future in professional football.

"We will begin working Kevin at left tackle. I think he's ready to play right now. We expect Kevin to come in here and make a real big impact with us in 1985. Of all the offensive linemen drafted in the first round, Kevin pass protects as well as any of them. But I can't just give him the job. He's going to have to earn it." ... the Eagles' first-round pick, ninth selection overall in the entire 1985 NFL draft ... first offensive lineman chosen in the first round by the Eagles since Jerry Sisemore in 1973 ... can play both tackle and guard but will be tried at left tackle by the Eagles ... excellent pass blocker throughout four-year career at Indiana ... greatly improved his drive blocking skills as a senior ... good size and overall athletic ability and is very coachable ... bench presses over 400 pounds ... was a leader on Indiana's offensive line as a three-year starter at tackle ... played for three different head coaches (Lee Corso 1981-82, Sam Wyche 1983, and Bill Mallory 1984) and three different offensive line coaches during career, yet continued to improve each season ... also benefited from tutoring sessions with Atlanta Falcons all-pro center Jeff Van Note, whom Wyche brought in to aid Hoosier linemen on pro-style techniques ... selected second team All-Big 10 by conference coaches and honorable mention by the sportswriters and broadcasters ... also named Indiana's top offensive lineman as a senior ... played in Blue-Gray Game and Senior Bowl ... three-year letterman who earned all-league and all-city honors at both offensive and defensive tackle at Northwest High School in his hometown and birthplace of Cincinnati, OH ... also an outstanding prep wrestler who placed in the sectional and district meets as a junior and senior ... set school's record for the discus at 189 feet ... majored in continuing education ... envisions a post-football career in the computer maintenance field ... enjoys movies ... his favorite film is "The Terminator," starring Arnold Schwarzenegger ... worked briefly as a body guard for Aaron Pryor before Pryor's fight in Cincinnati a year ago ... father Albert works for General Motors ... mother Meredith works for the Internal Revenue Service ... single.

RANDALL CUNNINGHAM, QB-P

6-4 195 Draft Round: 2

Nevada-Las Vegas Born: 3/27/63

"The thing I like about Randall is that he has been so consistently productive during his career, especially in terms of his completion percentage," said Campbell. "Randall can do a lot of things and do them well. We like the way he throws. He can throw the long ball, he can really zip it, and he has touch when he needs it. Randall also has an awfully strong leg as a punter and will have an opportunity to compete in that area as well." ... the Eagles' second-round choice (37th overall) ... the first quarterback selected in the entire 1985 draft, and one of only two signal callers chosen in the first five rounds ... also recognized as outstanding punter ... one of college football's most prolific passers ... joins John Elway and Doug Flutie as the only quarterbacks in NCAA history to throw for over 2,500 yards in three consecutive seasons ... extremely productive quarterback at Nevada-Las Vegas ... completed 57.9% of his passes as a three-year starter ... progressed from fourth-string QB to a starter by the second game of his sophomore year and finished career by setting virtually every Pacific Coast Athletic Association and UNLV passing record, including completion percentage, completions (614), yards (8,290), and touchdown passes (60) ... averaged 45.2 yards per punt during career ... twice booted 73-yarders and kicked another 72 yards ... selected second team All-America as a punter in 1984 and honorable mention quarterback by AP ... named first team Kodak/Coaches All-America punter as a junior ... selected first team All-PCAA at both positions three straight years and is the only player to earn PCAA offensive player of the year honors twice (1983-84) ... also chosen first team All-West Coast at both positions in final two seasons ... enjoyed outstanding senior campaign at quarterback ... ranked fifth in Division 1-A in passing efficiency (225-360-2,898) while completing exactly 62.5% of his passes, including 26 touchdowns ... follows in the footsteps of another great football-playing Cunningham, his brother Sam, who starred at running back for the

University of Southern California and the New England Patriots ... competed in football, basketball, and track at Santa Barbara High School in his hometown and birthplace of Santa Barbara, CA ... prep football honors included Adidas All-America and first team all-state selection ... credits Sam with being a strong influence in his life ... as a youth, spent endless hours with Sam and his two other brothers at local Boys' Clubs ... hopes to work with Boys' Clubs in the future in order to be a positive role model for kids ... has spent much free time working with youth-recreation groups and frequently speaks with troubled adolescents ... majored in recreation and minors in business.

JOE DRAKE, NT

6-2 295 Draft Round: 9b

Arizona Born: 5/28/63

"Joe is a heckuva defender against the run," said Eagles' executive director of player personnel Lynn Stiles. "He doesn't have great speed, but he's very big and strong and has extremely good field-awareness, which is important for a nose tackle. Joe gets a quick jump on the center and starts reading the play. He also makes it tough for the center to get out and get into the linebackers. He's just so big and physical that he takes up a huge part of the action in the middle." ... one of the best in the West at stopping the run ... also possesses good pass rush potential ... bench presses 450 pounds ... selected second team All-Pac 10 as a senior when he ranked sixth in the conference with eight quarterback sacks and recorded 92 tackles (58 solos) ... registered 102 tackles as a junior, including 17 behind the line of scrimmage (three sacks), and earned honorable mention All-Pac 10 honors ... played on a defensive unit that season that featured linebackers Ricky Hunley (Broncos) and John Kaiser (Seahawks) ... originally took over starting nose tackle spot midway through sophomore season ... named all-state and all-city (three times) as an offensive and defensive tackle at Galileo High School in his hometown and birthplace of San Francisco, CA ... captained football team as a senior ... also lettered in basketball and twice earned all-city honors in track ... majored in radio and television ... enjoys photography ... has worked in construction during summers ... has infant son Jomar.

HERMAN HUNTER, RB-KR

6-1 190 Draft Round: 11

Tennessee State Born: 2/14/61

"Herman is a player who could really contribute in certain situations because of his versatility," said Eagles' executive director of player personnel Lynn Stiles. "He's got outstanding hands. We envision him as a help to our nickel offense. What also makes Herman an attractive choice is his ability as a punt and kick returner. These are areas of our program that we would like to upgrade." ... nickname "Thriller" accurately describes his versatile abilities as a runner, receiver, and kick returner ... set Division I-AA career record for all-purpose yardage (5,717) during four years at Tennessee State ... gained an average of 10.7 yards every time he touched the ball ... set NCAA single game all-purpose yardage record of 464 yards vs. Mississippi Valley as a junior ... also set NCAA single game kickoff return yardage mark (262) in same game ... three-year starter at running back for the Tigers ... rushed 247 times for 1,052 yards (4.3-yard average) and caught 78 passes for 1,120 yards (14.4-yard average) ... had most productive year as a runner in 1983 when he gained 458 yards and scored nine touchdowns on 118 carries ... team switched to pass-oriented offense in 1984, and he caught 50 passes for 712 yards and six TDs ... established Tigers' career yardage records for punt returns (112-1,096-9.8) and kickoff returns (103-2,405-23.3) ... outstanding athlete at Hardaway High School in his hometown and birthplace of Columbus, GA ... enjoys fishing, reading, painting, and listening to music ... majored in criminal justice ... single.

DWAYNE JILES, LB

6-4 240 Draft Round: 5
Texas Tech Born: 11/23/61

"Dwayne is a big, physical linebacker who played a lot on the outside in college," said Eagles' executive director of player personnel Lynn Stiles. "But we have projected him as an inside linebacker. We feel he has the size and ability to do a fine job on the inside. He's certainly a guy who hits with some real impact.

He's got some rough edges but he is the type of quality player and person who can work hard and possibly make a contribution to our linebacking corps. Like most young linebackers, he'll need work on pass defense, but he did a good job in that area at Texas Tech where they play a lot of man-to-man coverages. We are confident that he can pick up fairly quickly what we'll teach him." ... one of the most highly regarded linebackers in Texas Tech history ... a tough hitter ... played outside linebacker in college but Eagles feel he has the size, strength, speed, and instincts to play inside ... his versatility could prove to be an important asset ... helped lead Red Raiders' defense which ranked 20th in the nation in 1984 ... selected honorable mention All-America by AP and first team All-Southwest Conference as a senior ... received several votes as conference's defensive player of the year ... finished second on the team in tackles with 111 (68 solos) ... also caused four fumbles and recovered three others ... standout efforts in 1984 included 22-tackle performance vs. Texas A&M and 16 vs. New Mexico ... played defensive end in Blue-Gray Game ... shook off nagging injuries as a junior and finished as Tech's leading tackler ... led team that season with 49 solo tackles and three fumbles caused ... saw action as a reserve linebacker as a freshman and sophomore ... redshirted in 1982 and increased his weight by 20 pounds ... born in Linden, TX, where he was twice chosen all-district wide receiver and linebacker and was named to Texas' "Top 90" list at Linden-Kildare High School ... also earned all-district honors in basketball ... finished second in the state long jump as a senior and won the district title three consecutive times ... enjoys hunting, fishing, and working on automobiles ... majored in recreation and health and needs just 10 credits to graduate ... resides in Douglassville, TX ... single ... pronounced: GILES.

MARK KELSO, S-PR

5-11 186 Draft Round: 10
William & Mary Born: 7/23/63

"Mark can best be described as one of the real, true hitters among the defensive backs in this draft," said Eagles' executive director of player personnel Lynn Stiles. "He has great range from sideline to sideline, Mark really has a nose for the football, and when he gets there he is a sure tackler. He also has the potential to be a fine punt returner." ... four-year starter at free safety for William & Mary ... set Tribe's career records for interceptions (20 for 111 yards) and tackles (444) ... registered over 110 tackles in all but his senior year when he missed four games early in the season due to a knee injury ... returned healthy in the sixth game and earned ECAC defensive player of the week honors when he intercepted two passes, recovered a fumble, and made 13 tackles vs. Boston University ... returned a kickoff 84 yards for a touchdown vs. Colgate ... also an excellent punt returner who averaged 7.3 yards on 64 returns in his career, including a 20.1-yard average on eight attempts as a senior ... earned honorable mention All-America honors from AP in 1984 ... selected first team academic All-America as senior, second team as a junior ... also named collegiate defensive MVP in the state of Virginia from 1982-84 ... led team in tackles as a junior with 141, including 98 solo stops ... also intercepted seven passes (41 yards) that season ... lettered in football, baseball, and track at North Hills High School in his hometown and birthplace of Pittsburgh, PA ... excellent student who amassed an overall grade point average of 3.5 while earning degree in business management ... one of 25 athletes to win NCAA postgraduate scholarships ... very active in Volunteers for Youth, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, the campus ministry, and several other community programs ... single.

GREG NARON, G

North Carolina Born: 10/21/63

"Greg is a very fluid, physical offensive lineman. He is simply a good athlete," said Eagles' executive director of player personnel Lynn Stiles. "As far as run-blocking is concerned, he is the type of guy who will really explode on a defender and stay with him all over the field. He also does a good job of searching for linebackers and hitting them on the move, especially when pulling around the corner. He has the physical attributes necessary to contend for a position on our team." ... earned starting spot at left guard for North Carolina midway through sophomore season and never relinquished that role ... his fine blocking helped maintain the Tarheels' NCAA record of 12 consecutive seasons with a running back surpassing 1,000 yards rushing ... led the way for Kelvin Bryant as a sophomore, Ethan Horton and Tyrone Anthony (N.O. Saints) as a junior, and Horton again in 1984 ... played alongside current NFL offensive linemen David Drechsler (T. Green Bay) and Brian Blados (T. Cincinnati) at UNC ... Tarheels' staff likens him to former UNC star and current New England Patriots' guard Ron Wooten ... has good size, strength, and speed ... does a good job of getting around the corner and leading sweeps ... selected honorable mention All-Atlantic Coast Conference as a senior ... played in Blue-Gray Game and Japan Bowl ... played defensive tackle as a freshman before switching to offense in spring of 1982 ... born in Guilford County, NC ... honor roll student and standout offensive and defensive tackle for Randleman High School in Randleman, NC ... also lettered in basketball and set school records in the shot put and discus ... brother, Joe, also is an offensive lineman at UNC ... majored in industrial relations ... resides in Climax, NC, where he spends summers helping his family on their 300-acre farm ... enjoys fishing and golfing ... single ... pronounced: NARE-un.

TOM POLLEY, LB

6-3 235 Draft Round: 8
Nevada-Las Vegas Born: 2/17/62

"Tom is a bonafide hitter," said Eagles' executive director of player personnel Lynn Stiles. "He's only had one full year of inside linebacker duty under his belt, and he's got a lot to learn about the overall game. But in terms of evaluating players with respect to their physical nature and their general toughness, Tom rates right up there at the top. We feel that he can come in here and challenge for a position on our roster." ... junior college transfer who switched from defensive line to linebacker at Nevada-Las Vegas in 1983 ... started first four games as a junior at outside linebacker before taking over the middle linebacker role ... in 1984, his first full season on the inside, he led the team with 131 tackles and was selected second team All-West Coast ... named Pacific Coast Athletic Association defensive player of the week vs. San Diego State last season when he recorded 11 tackles and recovered a fumble ... has good size and strength and is a big hitter ... originally attended Normandale J.C. (Bloomington, MN), where he earned all-league honors and was named Region XIII defensive most valuable player as a defensive end ... born in Minneapolis, MN ... starred in football at St. Louis Park High School in his hometown of St. Louis Park, MN ... majored in hotel administration ... has worked part-time as a security guard while at UNLV, including a stint at the boxing match between Marvin Hagler and Thomas Hearns on April 15 ... single ... pronounced: PAUL-ee.

KEN REEVES, T-G

6-5 270 Draft Round: 6b
Texas A&M Born: 10/4/61

"Ken is an interesting pick because he's played a lot of tackle and we also feel he can play guard," said Eagles' executive director of player personnel Lynn Stiles. "He was graded very highly by both our scouts and coaches. Frankly, we were surprised to see such an excellent pass protector still available on the sixth round.

He comes off the ball well on run-blocking, too. Ken will have to further develop his strength, but we feel he is capable of contributing to our offensive line." ... talented offensive lineman with experience at both tackle and guard ... strength is pass protection ... three-year starter at Texas A&M ... impressed Eagles' scouts despite missing three games in the middle of 1984 due to a knee injury ... did play in seven games and performed very consistently according to Aggies' coaches ... chosen by Southwest Conference players as the best guard in the conference following his outstanding junior season ... also selected second team All-SWC that year by AP ... redshirted first season and played defensive tackle as a freshman

... earned All-America honors in football at Pittsburg High School in his hometown and birthplace of Pittsburg, TX ... needs just one more semester to complete degree in industrial distribution ... single ... choice acquired from New England for kicker Tony Franklin.

TODD RUSSELL, CB

6-1 190 Draft Round: 12
Boston College Born: 9/5/61

"Todd is an outstanding athlete," said Eagles' executive director of player personnel Lynn Stiles. "He has all the physical tools to be a fine player. He's got good speed and excellent jumping ability. Todd may have played in the shadow of some other fine athletes at Boston College, but we feel he has a chance to be a good addition to our defensive backfield." ... good athlete who displayed excellent coverage ability as a two-year starter for Boston College ... intercepted 11 passes (62 yards) during four-year career, including five as a senior ... recorded 51 tackles as a junior, 62 as a senior ... played in the Tangerine, Liberty, and Cotton bowls with BC ... intercepted a pass in BC's Cotton Bowl victory over Houston ... born in Birmingham, AL ... was an all-conference wide receiver at Bedford High School in his hometown of Bedford, MA ... won scholarship to BC after an impressive performance in a spring all-star game in his senior year ... also earned prep all-conference honors in baseball and captained the basketball team ... majored in communications ... has held a summer job as a court house aide ... single ... full name is Jeffrey Todd Russell.

DAVE TOUB, C

6-3 278 Draft Round: 9a
Texas-El Paso Born: 6/1/62

"Dave is a very physical player with some real fine ability at center," said Eagles' executive director of player personnel Lynn Stiles. "He also is very adept at making the long snap on punts and placekicks. He's got enough versatility to play either center or guard, but we are primarily concerned with him challenging for a roster spot as a center." ... big, physical center who also has the ability to play guard and make long snaps on punts and placekicks ... two-year starter and co-captain at Texas-El Paso after transferring from Springfield College (MA) and red-shirting the 1982 season ... selected Division II All-America in both seasons at Springfield ... born in Ossining, NY ... enjoyed outstanding football career at Mahopac High School in his hometown of Mahopac, NY ... was one of three starters on UTEP's 1984 offensive line who played at Mahopac ... also played alongside current NY Giants center Kevin Belcher while at UTEP ... majored in physical education and health ... enjoys archery, hunting, and fishing ... single ... pronounced: TOBE ... choice acquired from Browns for Carl Hairston.

1984 EAGLES GAME-BY-GAME

Figures are actual attendance.

Game 1, Sept. 2 NY Giants 28, Eagles 27 Giants Stadium 71,520 Cloudy and warm

Giants' quarterback Phil Simms passed for 409 yards, more than any opposing quarterback in Eagles' history, and completed four touchdown passes to lead the Giants to a 28-27 victory. Byron Williams and Bobby Johnson paced the Giants' aerial attack as they combined to catch 13 passes for 304 yards and three scores. Simms staked New York to a 21-6 lead at halftime by throwing for 306 yards, including three touchdowns. Ron Jaworski, who had his best performance ever as a passer against the Giants (266 yards), engineered third quarter scoring drives of 43 and 90 yards to pull Philadelphia within one point of New York, 21-20. Mike Quick caught a 14-yard touchdown pass to cap the 90-yard drive and finished with a career-high eight receptions for 147 yards. After Simms' fourth touchdown pass increased New York's lead to 28-20, the Eagles' special teams provided a big play. Bill Cowher blocked a punt by Ali Haji-Sheikh, who had replaced the injured Dave Jennings. Rich Kraynak picked up the loose ball and ran eight yards for a score. Philadelphia's comeback effort was thwarted, however, when New York maintained possession for the final five minutes and 37 seconds. The defeat was the first of three one-point setbacks for the Eagles in 1984.

Game 2, Sept. 9 Eagles 19, Minnesota 17 Veterans Stadium 55,942 Sunny and warm

Eagles' tight end John Spagnola caught a one-yard touchdown pass from Ron Jaworski on fourth down with two seconds left to play in the game to lift Philadelphia to a 19-17 victory over Minnesota in the Birds' home opener. On the previous play it seemed as if the Eagles' comeback effort had been squelched when running back Wilbert Montgomery was stopped two yards short of the end zone on fourth down as he tried to skirt around left end. The Vikings, however, were penalized for pulling Montgomery's facemask and the stage was set for Spagnola's heroics. Spagnola's catch was his eighth of the game, a career-high which he broke later against Dallas. The game also featured Montgomery's record-breaking performance. He rushed for 98 yards on 19 carries and surpassed the Eagles' all-time career rushing yardage standard of 5,860 yards set by Pro Football Hall of Famer Steve Van Buren from 1944-1951. Minnesota was held to just 231 yards in total offense, but managed to take a 17-12 lead on consecutive touchdown drives early in the fourth quarter. The first came on a 20 yard option pass from running back Alfred Anderson to quarterback Tommy Kramer. Anderson also was the game's leading rusher with 105 yards and one TD on 20 carries. Philadelphia's first 12 points were provided by rookie kicker Paul McFadden, whose four-for-four field goal effort earned him the Golden Toe Award from Pro Football Weekly.

Game 3, Sept. 16 Dallas 23, Eagles 17 Texas Stadium 64,521 Cloudy and warm

As in their opening day loss to the Giants, the Eagles rallied from a sluggish start but were hampered by inconsistency both on offense and defense before succumbing to the Cowboys. 23-17 Philadelphia trailed 6-0 before putting together an impressive 70-yard touchdown march late in the second quarter that was capped by a 16-yard strike from Ron Jaworski to Mike Quick. Shortly before halftime, the Eagles dropped a possible interception of a pass by Gary Hogeboom for the second time. Five plays later Hogeboom tossed a 25-yard touchdown pass to Ron Springs. Paul McFadden's 39-yard field goal narrowed the Cowboys' lead to 13-10 with 14 seconds left in the half. After Rafael Septien kicked a 30-yard field goal to put Dallas ahead 16-10 in third quarter, the Eagles were victimized by a trick play for the second time in as many weeks. Dallas wide receiver Mike Renfro took a lateral pass from Hogeboom and completed a 49-yard touchdown strike to Doug Donley. With 10:28 remaining to play in the game, Philadelphia's offense again came to life, this time with a 90-yard drive culminating in a nine-yard scoring pass from Jaworski to Quick. Even though the Birds stopped Dallas on two successive possessions, Philadelphia's offense was unable to reach the end zone again. Jaworski completed 22 of 48 passes for 252 yards and surpassed the 20,000-yard mark for his eight-year Eagles' career.

Game 4, Sept. 23 San Francisco 21, Eagles 9 Veterans Stadium 63,949 Sunny and warm

San Francisco's backup quarterback Matt Cavanaugh started in place of the injured Joe Montana and completed 17 of 34 passes for 252 yards and three touchdowns to lead the eventual Super Bowl champion 49ers to a 21-9 victory. Philadelphia had plenty of opportunities to earn a victory. Whereas the Birds' defense had dropped two potential interceptions that could have changed the outcome of the previous week's game at Dallas, the offense was the culprit this time as several receivers failed to hang on to critical passes. The Eagles also were held to just 72 rushing yards on 20 carries and converted only two of 14 third down plays. "It boiled down to missed opportunities," Eagles' head coach Marion Campbell said afterwards. "When we had a chance to make the big plays, we didn't. And when they did [have opportunities], they did. And that was the ball game." Late in the first quarter, the 49ers marched 63 yards in seven plays and took a 7-0 lead on Cavanaugh's 35-yard strike to Roger Craig. Paul McFadden's second field goal narrowed the 49ers' advantage to 7-6 with 55 seconds left in the first half, but Derrick Harmon returned the ensuing kickoff 51 yards. Five plays later, Cavanaugh's second touchdown pass made it 14-6. After McFadden's third field goal in as many tries, San Francisco closed out the scoring with a 51 yard touchdown bomb from Cavanaugh to Dwight Clark.

Game 5, Sept. 30

RFK Stadium 53,064
Cloudy and fair

For the second straight week, Philadelphia's offense was unable to score a touchdown, and the Eagles' record dropped to 1-4 as they were shut out by the defending NFC champion Washington Redskins, 20-0. Again, the Eagles were unable to make "big plays" while their opponents were able to do so. Philadelphia was deceived by a "gadget play" for the third time in 1984 as quarterback Joe Theismann took a pitch back from John Riggins and fired a 51-yard touchdown pass to Art Monk for a 7-0 lead. Washington limited Ron Jaworski to 18 completions (only four to wide receivers) and 170 yards in 35 attempts. Philadelphia also converted just three of 13 third down plays. The Eagles' defense frequently pressured Theismann, but the agile signal caller scrambled six times for 56 yards, including four runs for key first downs. Washington ate up yardage and time in the second half with the bullish running of Riggins, who finished as the game's leading rusher with 104 yards and one touchdown on 28 carries. Wilbert Montgomery rushed 11 times for 37 yards and broke the Eagles' record for career rushing attempts (1,320), which Hall of Famer Steve Van Buren had set from 1944-1951.

Rich Stadium 37,555
Cloudy and mild

Philadelphia snapped a three-game losing streak as Ron Jaworski returned home and led the Eagles past the Bills, 27-17. Playing in front of 67 friends and relatives from nearby Lackawanna, Jaworski threw two touchdown passes and dove for a critical score on fourth-and-goal from the Buffalo one yard line with 4:01 remaining in the game. Jaworski, who was starting his 109th consecutive game (then an NFL record that he would later extend), suffered a cracked rib on the touchdown dive. Buffalo was without its top quarterback, Joe Ferguson, who also had made 108 consecutive starts prior to this game. His replacements, Joe Dufek and Matt Kofler, were sacked a total of three times and were repeatedly pressured by the Eagles' improving pass rush. They completed just 14 of 38 passes for 183 yards. Jaworski finished with 24 completions and 234 yards on 38 attempts. While pro bowl receiver Mike Quick was held without a reception for the first time in his last 21 starts, Philadelphia's receiving corps spread the workload as Wilbert Montgomery caught six passes, Kenny Jackson and John Spagnola five each, and Tony Woodruff four, including a 15 yard touchdown. Rookie running back Greg Bell paced the Bills' attack, as he rushed for 77 yards and two touchdowns and caught four passes for 49 yards.

Game 7, Oct. 14 Eagles 16, Indianapolis 7 Veterans Stadium 50,277 Clear and mild

"I want to take my hat off to the defense," said Eagles' head coach Marion Campbell after Philadelphia defeated the Colts, 16-7. "They [the defense] played an outstanding game." The Birds held the Colts to just 199 yards in total offense, the lowest by an Eagles' opponent since December 6, 1981, when the Redskins had 176. Indianapolis entered the game with the AFC's top-ranked rushing attack, but was limited to only 127 yards on the ground, 21 yards below its per game average. The Colts also brought a 5.5 yards per first down carry average into the game but they were forced to punt after just three plays on six of 13 possessions. Philadelphia registered a then season-high five quarterback sacks, including two each by defensive captain Dennis Harrison and Ken Clarke, both of whom also caused Colts' fumbles. Clarke was named NFC defensive player of the week for his effort. Despite a cracked rib suffered a week earlier at Buffalo, Ron Jaworski started his 110th consecutive game at quarterback. Jaworski had a fine first half, completing 21 of 29 passes for 194 yards and one touchdown, but was forced to the sidelines for the second half by back spasms. Joe Pisarcik, however, replaced Jaworski and connected on eight of 14 passes for 75 yards and directed a nine-play, 51-yard drive in the fourth quarter that resulted in Paul McFadden's third successive field goal.

Philadelphia evened its record at 4-4 and moved within a game of first place in the NFC East after defeating the Giants 24-10. The victory was the third in a row for the Eagles and marked the club's first three-game winning streak since 1981. The Birds' vastly improved defense again led the way, holding New York to just 59 yards rushing, and limiting Phil Simms to 16 completions in 33 attempts for 248 yards. In the season opener, Simms had thrown for 409 yards and four touchdowns. The Eagles' pass rush, led by Greg Brown, dumped Simms behind the line five times. In the fourth quarter, Brown sacked Simms, knocked the ball loose, and Jerry Robinson recovered it on the Giants' eight-yard line to set up the winning touchdown. Philadelphia's defense thwarted the Giants' comeback attempt when Ray Ellis intercepted a pass by Simms late in the final quarter. Eight plays later, Ron Jaworski fired his third touchdown pass of the day, a 37-yarder to Tony Woodruff. The Eagles had jumped to an early 7-0 lead when Jaworski hit Kenny Jackson, Philadelphia's number one draft choice in 1984, with a nine-yard slant pass, and Jackson used his speed to outrun the Giants' secondary and turn in an 83-yard touchdown. Shortly thereafter, Jackson suffered a separated shoulder that sidelined him for the next four weeks.

St. Louis overcame a 14-7 deficit midway through the second quarter as their high-powered offense, ranked first in the NFC, struck for 27 unanswered points and defeated Philadelphia, 34-14. The loss snapped the Eagles' three-game win streak. After outgaining the Cardinals in the first half, Philadelphia could muster only 94 yards in total offense in the second half while St. Louis rolled up 261 yards. St. Louis used a versatile attack that featured six different ball carriers. Eight different Cardinals caught passes from Neil Lomax, who had the hot hand all day, completing 20 of 26 passes for 286 yards and two touchdowns. O. J. Anderson bore the brunt of the workload for St. Louis, rushing 18 times for 75 yards, and catching seven passes for another 75. Ron Jaworski completed 22 of 38 passes for 340 yards, his best yardage total of 1984 and the third-highest of his career. After tossing a two-yard touchdown to Vito Kab, Jaworski connected with Mike Quick on a 90-yard catch-and-run for a touchdown. The coast-to-coast play was the longest of both Jaworski's and Quick's careers. Quick finished with six receptions for a career-high 170 yards.

Pontiac Silverdome 59,141
Indoors

Philadelphia twice struggled from behind to tie the Lions, but in a 15 minute overtime period neither team was able to score and the game ended in a 23-23 tie. After a sluggish first half, the Eagles found themselves trailing 17-3. The Lions' second touchdown was the result of the Eagles' old nemesis, a gadget play. Quarterback Gary Danielson handed off to James Jones, who ran to the right before throwing back across the field to Danielson for a 22-yard score. A 68-yard touchdown bomb from Ron Jaworski to Mike Quick, a two-yard touchdown leap by Michael Haddix, and a field goal by Paul McFadden knotted the score at 20-20 with 6:27 remaining in regulation play. After a valiant goal line stand by the Eagles, Detroit seemingly clinched the victory when Eddie Murray's 18-yard field goal pushed the Lions into the lead at the 13:57 mark. But Jaworski, with no times out left, quickly completed two passes, and a key five-yard penalty against the Lions set the stage for McFadden's game-tying 40-yard field goal with three seconds to play. McFadden already had booted field goals of 52 and 51 yards to become the first player in Eagles' history to kick two field goals of 50 yards or more in one game. For his effort, McFadden received the Golden Toe Award from Pro Football Weekly for the second time in 1984. Both teams wasted good scoring opportunities in overtime. Detroit took the kickoff and marched to the Eagles' 3-yard line, where Eddie Murray's 21-yard field goal bounced off the right upright. On their ensuing possession, Philadelphia moved to the Lions' 49-yard line before a bomb from Jaworski to Quick was intercepted by Bobby Watkins at the 5.

Game 11, Nov. 11
Miami 24, Eagles 23
Orange Bowl 70,277
Sunny and warm

The Eagles engineered their best rushing effort of the year, grinding out 177 yards, and led the then undefeated Dolphins for three quarters before falling to the eventual AFC champions, 24-23. With 1:52 left in the game, Melvin Hoover turned a slant pass from Ron Jaworski into a 38-yard touchdown that narrowed Miami's lead to one point. Paul McFadden's extra point kick, however, was blocked by Miami defensive end Doug Betters. The miss was McFadden's first in 20 tries. Philadelphia was averaging just 75.5 yards per game on the ground before racking up 177 against the "Killer Bees" defense of Miami, 25 more than the Eagles would gain in any other game in 1984. Wilbert Montgomery rushed for 56 yards on 10 carries before being sidelined in the second half with an injury. Michael Haddix added a personal season high 55 yards on nine attempts. Philadelphia also outgained the NFL's number-one offense, 364 total yards to 331. The Eagles became the first team to score first against Miami all season as they surged to a 14-0 lead after their initial two offensive possessions—an 80-yard drive capped by a 19-yard scoring pass to Mike Quick and a 63-yard march culminated by a 16-yard touchdown pass to Tony Woodruff. Philadelphia limited record breaking, all pro quarterback Dan Marino to 246 yards passing and just one scoring toss, the only time other than in the Super Bowl that he threw less than two TD's in a game. The Birds also registered an impressive goal-line stand, turning away the Dolphins on four successive plays inside the 8-yard line in the second quarter.

Game 12, Nov. 18 Eagles 16, Washington 10 Veterans Stadium 63,117 Overcast and cool

Inspired by an enthusiastic sellout crowd at Veterans Stadium, the Eagles' defense put a stronghold on the defending NFC champion Washington Redskins' powerful offense, and rookie free agent Andre Waters returned a kickoff 89 yards for a touchdown as Philadelphia defeated the Skins, 16-10. The victory snapped Washington's streak of six straight wins over Philadelphia. Head coach Marion Campbell compared the Birds' defensive effort to the one Philadelphia waged against Dallas in the 1980 NFC Championship Game when the Cowboys were held to just 202 yards in total offense. Philadelphia recovered three fumbles, intercepted three passes, held the Redskins to just 261 yards, and limited them to their fewest points in one game since 1982. Safeties Ray Ellis and Wes Hopkins paced the defense. Ellis led the Birds with 11 tackles and doused a Skins' scoring opportunity with an interception at the Eagles' 8-yard line. Hopkins forced one fumble and recovered two others by John Riggins. The Eagles' offense was limited to 165 total yards, but kicker Paul McFadden and Waters provided the necessary scoring punch. McFadden made three of four field goal attempts, while Waters electrified the crowd with his 89-yard kickoff return after a field goal by Mark Moseley had given Washington a 10-9 lead. Waters' effort made him the first Eagle to return a kickoff for a score since Billy Campbell ran 92 yards against Detroit in 1979.

Game 13, Nov. 25 St. Louis 17, Eagles 16 Busch Memorial Stadium 39,958 Overcast and mild

Neil O'Donoghue booted a 44-yard field goal with eight seconds left to play to give St. Louis a 17-16 victory over Philadelphia. The defeat was the Eagles' third one-point setback of the season. Overshadowed by the loss was a solid effort by backup quarterback Joe Pisarcik, who replaced injured Ron Jaworski on the Birds' second offensive series. Jaworski suffered a fractured fibula and torn ligaments in his ankle. He underwent surgery two days later and was sidelined for the remainder of the season. Pisarcik completed 24 of 39 pass attempts for 226 yards and one touchdown. Philadelphia's defense gave another spirited performance, limiting the Cardinals' high-powered offense (ranked number-one in the NFC at the time) to 219 total yards, sacking Neil Lomax five times, and causing three turnovers, that all created scoring chances for the Eagles in the fourth quarter. The Eagles capitalized on one such opportunity with a 16-yard touchdown pass to Mike Quick, who finished with eight catches (tying a career-high) for 107 yards. Another turnover led to a 32-yard field goal by Paul McFadden that gave Philadelphia a 16-14 lead with 1:50 remaining. But Lomax quickly completed three passes and scrambled for 13 yards to set up O'Donoghue's game-winning kick.

Game 14, Dec. 2 Dallas 26, Eagles 10 Veterans Stadium 66,322 Sunny and mild

Two of Marion Campbell's primary goals in 1984 were for the defense to improve its pass rush and create more turnovers. Against Dallas, the Eagles did just that, intercepting five passes, recovering a fumble, and sacking Danny White three times. But the Birds still came up short, 26-10. A key factor was the ineffectiveness of Philadelphia's offense, which gained just 176 yards and converted only one of those turnovers into a field goal. Philadelphia faced Dallas without Ron Jaworski (fractured fibula; torn ankle ligaments) and Mike Quick (ribs). Joe Pisarcik replaced Jaworski who had started 116 consecutive games. It was Pisarcik's first start since 1979 with the New York Giants. It also was the first time since 1976 that someone (Roman Gabriel) other than Jaworski started at quarterback for the Eagles. Safeties Wes Hopkins and Ray Ellis again paced the defense. Hopkins intercepted two passes, while Ellis stole one and knocked out Dallas' Tony Dorsett with a hard hit in the second quarter. Dorsett, however, returned to rush for 99 yards in the second half and finish the day with 110 yards on 22 carries. Herman Edwards intercepted a pass by White and moved into second place on the Eagles' all-time career interception list with 30. White completed just eight of 25 pass attempts, but he helped break open the game in the third quarter by completing a 57-yard catch-and-run touchdown pass to Ron Springs and by directing a 63-yard scoring march. Dallas had jumped to a 7-0 lead when Dennis Thurman intercepted a pass by Pisarcik on Philadelphia's first offensive series and returned it 38 yards for a score. John Spagnola was a bright spot for the Eagles' offense, catching 11 passes for 114 yards, both career highs.

Game 15, Dec. 9 Eagles 27, New England 17 Veterans Stadium 41,581 Sunny and cold

Philadelphia eliminated the Patriots' playoff chances with a 27-17 victory that gave the Eagles a 5-3 record at home in 1984, a marked improvement over their 1-7 record at the Vet in 1983. After producing only two touchdowns in the previous three games, the Eagles' offense matched its season high of 27 points with three rushing touchdowns—two by Joe Pisarcik and one by Wilbert Montgomery. The Birds had rushed for only three touchdowns in the first 14 games of the season. Paul McFadden provided two field goals to raise his season total to 112 points, breaking the Eagles' record for kick scoring in a season set at 106 by Tom Dempsey in 1973. It was the first time the Eagles rushed for three touchdowns in a game since December 19, 1982, when Montgomery ran for three himself against Houston while gaining 147 yards. Montgomery rushed 19 times for 100 yards, the first time Montgomery had reached the 100-yard plateau since the same Houston game. The Eagles' defense and special teams contributed to the victory as Wes Hopkins made big plays for both units. After Hopkins partially blocked a punt by Rich Camarillo from the Patriots' end zone, Philadelphia took over on the New England 3-yard line and Pisarcik ran it in to make it 27-17. On the following series, Hopkins intercepted a pass at the Eagles' goal line to snuff out the Patriots' comeback attempt. Philadelphia sacked Patriots' quarterback Tony Eason four times to raise the Eagles' 1984 sack total to 51 and surpass the team record for sacks in a season (47 in 1977).

Falcons prevailed, 26-10. Atlanta's points came on four field goals by Mick Luckhurst, a two-yard touchdown run by Gerald Riggs, and a 16-yard touchdown pass from rookie quarterback David Archer to Arthur Cox. Archer replaced starter Mike Moroski midway through the first quarter and completed 12 of 18 passes for 197 yards. Philadelphia had good scoring opportunities in the first quarter after Ray Ellis blocked a Falcons' punt and intercepted a pass, but the Eagles could generate only a field goal. The Birds lost four fumbles to Atlanta in the first half. The Falcons made better use of their opportunities, converting two of the turnovers into a field goal and a touchdown. Philadelphia's passing attack gained 367 yards, but the offense was stalled repeatedly by the Falcons' pass rush which sacked Joe Pisarcik eight times. The Eagles did some pass-rushing of their own, setting a club single game record with nine sacks, which increased their own team record for sacks in a season to 60. Paul McFadden hit one of two field goal attempts and converted an extra point kick to raise his season total to 116 points, breaking Bobby Walston's Eagles' record of 114 set in 1954.

The Eagles' Story

- 1933 Frankford Yellowjackets' franchise in the NFL awarded to syndicate headed by Bert Bell and Lud Wray for $2500. Club christened "Eagles" in honor of the symbol of the New Deal and the NRA. Eagles and Chicago Bears play in Philadelphia's first Sunday game (Nov. 12) at Baker Bowl. Game ends in a 3-3 tie.
- 1935 General manager Bert Bell proposes an annual college draft to equalize talent in league. Proposal is adopted on May 19 for the 1936 season.
- 1936 Eagles have first choice in inaugural college draft. Select University of Chicago back Jay Berwanger but fail to sign him. Bell becomes sole owner of club with $4000 bid. Playing site for home games moves from Baker Bowl to Municipal Stadium.
- 1939 Davey O'Brien, Texas Christian's All-America quarterback, signs with Eagles for reported $12,000 per year salary and percentage of the gate. O'Brien plays in every game and set NFL passing yardage record with 1,324 yards.

1940's

- 1940 Home playing site switches from Municipal Stadium to Shibe Park. Art Rooney of Pittsburgh buys half interest in the Eagles after selling the Pittsburgh franchise to Alexis Thompson of New York.
- 1941 Rooney and Thompson swap franchises, Rooney returning to Pittsburgh and Thompson taking over the Eagles. Bert Bell joins Rooney as a full-time partner in Pittsburgh. Thompson hires Earle (Greasy) Neale as head coach of the Eagles.
- 1943 Eagles merge with Pittsburgh Steelers. Team known as "Steagles." Merge dissolved at end of season.
- 1944 First draft choice Steve Van Buren debuts as Eagles' halfback. Team finishes in second place with 7-1-2 record.
- 1945 Team again finishes in second place with 7-3 record and leads league in scoring with 272 points. Van Buren leads NFL with 832 rushing yards and 110 points scored.
- 1946 Team finishes second for third straight year with 6-5 record.
- 1947 Rookie end Pete Pihos, Van Buren, and Bosh Pritchard combine with an overpowering defense to lead Philadelphia into the NFL championship game for the first time. Chicago Cardinals score 28-21 victory to win title at icy Comiskey Park.
- 1948 Eagles win their first NFL championship, downing the Chicago Cardinals, 7-0, in a blinding snowstorm at Shibe Park. Team finishes with overall record of 10-2-1.
- 1949 Alexis Thompson sells Eagles for $250,000 to a syndicate headed by local businessman James P. Clark. Vince McNally is named general manager. University of Pennsylvania All-America center-linebacker Chuck Bednarik is a first round draft choice. Eagles win third straight Eastern Division title and defend their NFL championship with a 14-0 victory over the Los Angeles Rams. Team finishes with overall record of 12-1.

1950's

- 1951 Alvin (Bo) McMillin replaces Greasy Neale as head coach after a 6-6 season in 1950. McMillin takes ill the night before the season opener and is replaced as head coach by Wayne Millner. End-placekicker Bobby Walston is named rookie of the year.
- 1952 Jim Trimble succeeds Wayne Millner as head coach. Team rides strong defense to 7-5 second place finish.
- 1953 Bobby Thomason and Adrian Burk combine to pass for a league-high 3,089 yards. Pete Pihos catches 63 passes for 1,049 yards and 10 touchdowns to lead league. Eagles finish in second place and crack Cleveland's 11-game winning streak with 42-27 win in season finale.
- 1954 Bobby Walston leads league in scoring with 114 points. Eagles finish second for third straight year with second straight 7-4-1 record.
- 1955 Pihos again leads all NFL pass receivers with 62 catches for 864 yards. Joseph A. Donoghue, Eagles' vice president/secretary, is elected assistant treasurer of NFL.
- 1956 Hugh Devore is named to replace Jim Trimble as head coach.
- 1957 Rookie quarterback Sonny Jurgensen highlights season by passing Eagles to 17-7 upset of Cleveland Browns.
- 1958 Buck Shaw signs as head coach replacing Hugh Devore. Eagles acquire quarterback Norm Van Brocklin in trade with Los Angeles. Team moves home games from Connie Mack Stadium to University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field and attendance almost doubles.
- 1959 With Pete Retzlaff and Tommy McDonald his chief targets, Norm Van Brocklin passes Eagles to 7-5 record and second place tie with Cleveland.

1960's

- 1960 Norm Van Brocklin and Chuck Bednarik—playing nearly 60 minutes at center and linebacker—pace the Eagles to their first Eastern Division title in 11 years. The Birds then win their third NFL championship with a come-from-behind 17-13 victory over Green Bay. Van Brocklin, the league's most valuable player, and head coach Buck Shaw both announce their retirement at the end of the season.
- 1961 Nick Skorich replaces Buck Shaw as head coach and Sonny Jurgensen takes over as the starting quarterback. Despite Jurgensen's record-setting season, the Eagles fail to repeat as division champions with a 10-4 record.
- 1962 Injuries in unprecedented numbers hit Eagles and the team wins only three games and falls to last place.
- 1963 Timmy Brown sets an NFL record for total offense in a season. Developer Jerry Wolman purchases the franchise.
- 1964 Former Chicago Cardinals and Washington Redskins coach Joe Kuharich signs as head coach and begins a series of major trades to rebuild the club.
- 1966 After extensive roster changes, the Eagles finish 9-5 for their first winning season in five years.
- 1967 Quarterback Norm Snead and flanker Ben Hawkins set respective team passing and receiving records but key injuries to other players contribute to a disappointing second place finish and 6-7-1 record.

- 1969 Leonard Tose purchases the franchise from Jerry Wolman for $16.1 million, at the time a record price for a professional sports team. Tose names former receiving great Pete Retzlaff as general manager and Jerry Williams as head coach.

1970's

- 1971 The Eagles move to a new home at Veterans Stadium. After three consecutive crushing losses at the beginning of the season, assistant Ed Khayat replaces Jerry Williams as head coach.
- 1972 After a stormy 2-11-1 season, Tose accepts general manager Retzlaff's resignation and releases the entire coaching staff.
- 1973 Under new coach Mike McCormack and new quarterback Roman Gabriel, the Eagles have an exciting offensive season but it is not enough to keep them from a 5-8-1 record. In his first year as a full-time wide receiver, Harold Carmichael leads the NFL with 67 pass receptions.
- 1974 Under newly appointed general manager Jim Murray, the Eagles trade with Cincinnati and acquire linebacker Bill Bergey. Bergey bolsters the defense and wins Pro Bowl honors along with Charle Young, who becomes the third consecutive Eagle to lead the league in pass receptions.
- 1976 After a 4-10 season in 1975, Tose appoints 39-year-old Dick Vermeil of UCLA as head coach. Bill Bergey wins All-NFC and Pro Bowl recognition.
- 1977 Quarterback Ron Jaworski is obtained from the Los Angeles Rams in exchange for the rights to tight end Charle Young. Bill Bergey, keying the newly-installed 3-4 defense of coordinator Marion Campbell, wins all-pro and all-conference honors and is selected to play in his third Pro Bowl.
- 1978 The Eagles post a 9-7 record, their first winning season since 1966, and make the playoffs for the first time since 1960. They lose to Atlanta, 14-13, on two late touchdowns in the NFC wild card playoff game. Wilbert Montgomery, in his first starting season, rushes for 1,220 yards to become the first Eagle since Steve Van Buren to surpass 1,000 in a season.
- 1979 With an 11-5 regular season record—their best since 1961—the Eagles tie Dallas for first place in the NFC East and go to the playoffs as a wild card team. After beating Chicago, 27-17, in the playoffs, the Birds are upset at Tampa Bay, 24-17. Montgomery sets a club record with 1,512 rushing yards, and Harold Carmichael sets an NFL record against Cleveland by catching a pass in his 106th consecutive game. Barefoot rookie kicker Tony Franklin kicks the second longest field goal in NFL history—59 yards—in 31-21 victory at Dallas. Dick Vermeil is voted NFL coach of the year.

- 1980 The Eagles win 11 of their first 12 games and go on to a 12-4 mark and the NFC East championship. The Birds trounce Minnesota, 31-16, in their first playoff game and then upend Dallas, 20-7, to win the NFC title and a berth in Super Bowl XV. The Oakland Raiders prevail in that game, however, 27-10. Ron Jaworski leads the NFC in passing rating with a mark of 90.9 while throwing for 3,527 yards and 27 touchdowns. He is named NFL player of the year by the Maxwell Football Club and NFC player of the year by UPI. Harold Carmichael's NFL receiving streak is snapped at 127 games when he fails to catch a pass in the regular season finale at Dallas after sustaining a back injury in the first half.

- 1981 The Eagles post a 10-6 record and appear in the playoffs for the fourth consecutive year. After building a 6-0 record early in the season, the Birds struggle in their final eight games and are upset in the NFC Wild Card Game by the New York Giants, 27-21. The Birds' defense ranks first in the NFL in yardage allowed (4,447), and points allowed (221). On offense, Harold Carmichael enjoys the third 1,000-yard receiving year of his career and Wilbert Montgomery rushes for 1,402 yards.
- 1982 The first NFL players' strike in history takes place after two games and stops play for eight weeks. When play resumes on November 21 the long layoff hurts the Eagles. After splitting their first two games of the season, one of them an overtime loss, the Birds come back from the strike to lose four in a row and miss the playoffs for the first time since 1977. A 24-20 Eagles' victory at Dallas on December 26 is the last victory in the Philadelphia career of head coach Dick Vermeil, who resigns shortly following the season after compiling a 55-51-0 overall record. Dennis Harrison, whose 10½ quarterback sacks tie for first in the NFL, is the team's lone representative in the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl.
- 1983 Marion Campbell replaces Dick Vermeil as head coach after six seasons as the Eagles' defensive coordinator. Owner and president Leonard Tose announces in January that his daughter, Susan Fletcher, the Eagles' vice president and legal counsel, would eventually succeed him as primary owner of the Eagles. After winning four of their first six games, the Eagles become mired in a seven-game losing streak and finish with a 5-11 record. The Birds' offense is highlighted by first team all-pro and AFC-NFC Pro Bowl selection Mike Quick, who leads the league and sets a club record with 1,409 yards receiving. Quick also sets Eagles season records for 100-yard receiving games (6), and consecutive 100-yard receiving games (4), and ties the club mark of 13 touchdown receptions.
- 1984 After a 1-4 start, the Eagles rebound with a 5-5-1 record over their final 11 games. The Eagles bring excitement back to Veterans Stadium as they win five of eight contests there, compared to only one of eight in 1983. Philadelphia's swarming defense sets a club record of 60 quarterback sacks and is the catalyst for the team's improved play. Wilbert Montgomery establishes the Eagles' career rushing record for yards (6,538) and attempts (1,465), surpassing the marks set by Pro Football Hall of Famer Steve Van Buren from 1944-51. Kicker Paul McFadden establishes Eagles' season scoring record with 116 points (tops among rookies) surpassing Bobby Walston's 30-year mark of 114, and is named NFC rookie of the year. Ron Jaworski suffers a broken leg at St. Louis in week 13, snapping his streak of 116 consecutive starts (believed to be an all-time record for NFL quarterbacks). Mike Quick is selected to the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl for the second straight year.
- 1985 On March 12, Leonard Tose, the Eagles' owner since 1969, announces an agreement to sell the team to Norman Braman and Ed Leibowitz, highly successful automobile dealers from Florida. After obtaining the approval of the other NFL owners and fulfilling the terms of the transaction, Braman officially becomes the Eagles' new owner on April 29. That same day, Braman elevates Harry Gamble, general manager since February 4, to vice president-general manager overseeing day-to-day operations of the club.

PERSONNEL GUIDE

WAIVERS: The waiver system is a process by which player contracts or NFL rights to players are made available by a club to other NFL clubs. During this process, a club may make a claim to obtain the player or "waive" its right to do so—thus the term "waiver." Claiming clubs are assigned players on a priority based upon the inverse of won-lost standings. The claiming period is normally ten days during the off-season and 24 hours from early July through December. If a player passes through waivers unclaimed or not recalled, he becomes a free agent, under the Collective Bargaining Agreement. From February 1 through October 9 any veteran who has acquired four years of pension credit may, if about to be assigned to another club through the waiver system, reject such assignment and become a free agent.

INJURED RESERVE: This is a reserve list category that may be used for the player by a club if the player is injured in a practice session or game of his club in any year, after having passed the club's physical examination in that year. If a player fails the club's initial physical examination, he is not available for reserve/injured; the club may instead use the procedure of Physically Unable to Perform or Non-Football Injury/Illness, which is applicable. If a player is physically unable to play football for a minimum of four games from the time he is placed upon reserve/injured, he may be re-activated by his club upon clearing procedural recall waivers. Also, each club is allowed five free reactivation moves each season, one of which may be used for players placed on reserve/injured before the final roster cutdown.

RESERVE LISTS: Included among the various categories on the reserve list are retired, injured, non-football injury/illness, physically unable to perform, military, and did not report.

ROSTER CUT-DOWN DATES: All NFL clubs must reduce their active roster totals to 60 players on August 20; 50 players on August 27; and to 45 players on September 2.

TRADES: Unrestricted trading is allowed between the clubs through the Tuesday following the sixth regular season game (October 15) and does not resume again until February 1.

Veterans Stadium

The Eagles have called Veterans Stadium home since 1971 after previous stops at Municipal (now JFK) Stadium, Connie Mack Stadium, and Franklin Field. In their history, the Birds have also played home games at the Baker Bowl, Temple University Stadium, and Pittsburgh's Forbes Field during the 1943 season.

Veterans Stadium, known as "the Vet," is one of the finest multi-purpose sports facilities in the country. Built on a 74-acre site in South Philadelphia, it is a gem of a sports complex that also includes a recreational park, mammoth JFK Stadium which the Eagles still use for practice, and the Spectrum indoor arena, home of the Philadelphia Flyers and 76ers.

The Vet, which opened before the Phillies' 1971 baseball season, was built at a cost in excess of $50 million. The Eagles, 76ers, and Phillies maintain their executive offices in the stadium.

The first Eagles' game at the Vet took place on August 16, 1971, when they defeated the Buffalo Bills in a preseason encounter, 34-28. The first regular season win came at the expense of the New York Giants, 23-7, on October 24, 1971.

In 14 previous seasons at Veterans Stadium, the Eagles have compiled a 53-52-1 regular season record. The seating capacity for football is 71,640, and the field is AstroTurf, installed in the spring of 1982.

EAGLES' RADIO NETWORK

The flagship station of the Eagles' radio network is WIP/610 AM, a Metromedia station. Merrill Reese calls the play-by-play and former Eagles' all-pro tackle Stan Walters handles the color commentary. Eagles' games can be heard in three states on the following stations.
